As one spins along on one's MORRIS and the speedometer rises to 30 or 40, with a pleasant smile it seems to say "I can do 50 if you like"—but, of course, that's a matter between you and the authorities. Meantime it is well to let it be known what MORRIS Cars are able to give when called upon. Haven't you felt the desire to own a Morris growing on you for some time? Well, suppose you ask for full details of our Easy Payment Plan to begin with?

POSTMAN IN TROUBLE.

SPLENDID RECORD SPOILED AFTER CHILD'S DEATH.

A strong plea for leniency was made at a special court at Kilmainham yesterday on behalf of William Traynor, postman, Windy Arbour, Dundrum, who pleaded guilty to charges of stealing two sums of £1 10s. from postal packets and a further sum of £1 from a registered letter.

It was stated that the accused man, who had been badly wounded in the European War, had hitherto borne a splendid record in the Post Office. He had met with trouble owing to the death of his only child, and was tempted to steal to get over his difficulties. Later, however, he paid back most of the money which he took.

District Justice Reddin said that fortunately these cases were few, thanks to the capabilities of Captain Moynihan, chief investigation officer of the Department. Having regard to all the circumstances, the Court would not send the accused man to jail, but would fine him £10 and order him to find bail, himself in £25 and two independent sureties of £25.

THE ALEXANDRA COLLEGE GUILD.

The annual conference of the Alexandra College Guild has been arranged to take place on Friday, May 14th, and Saturday, May 15th. On Friday evening, at 7.45, accounts of the various branches of Guild work—Tenement Houses, Pembroke Garden Cottages, Working Girls' Club, Hostel, Holiday Fund, Bursaries scheme—will be given by the workers themselves; and Miss Crawford (late Almoner at St. Thomas's Hospital, London), will speak on "The Work of an Almoner." At the afternoon meeting on Saturday, at half-past two o'clock, the chair will be taken by Miss White, LL.D., president of the Guild, and papers will be read by Miss Haldane on "Education in Victorian Days and Now," and by Professor Winifred Cullis, O.B.E., D.Sc., on "Women in Public Life." After the meeting there will be a garden party and music in the Jellicoe Hall.

All past students of the College are eligible for membership, and the hon. secretary of the Guild will be glad to send full particulars to any who may wish to join.

MONKSTOWN PROTESTANT ORPHAN SOCIETY.

The 95th annual meeting of the Monkstown Protestant Orphan Society was held at the Knox Memorial Hall, Monkstown, Co. Dublin, on April 6th, the Rev. Chancellor Dowse presiding. A gratifying report, with a statement of accounts, was submitted by the hon. secretary and treasurer, the Rev. G. R. Elliott. The work of the Society is mainly directed to the care of children who become orphans within the area of the historic parish of Monkstown, which originally extended from Blackrock to Killiney. There was a falling off in the receipts during the year reviewed, but there was a slight decrease in the number of the beneficiaries. This good cause has a claim upon the donations and legacies of the friends of the helpless children.

SALE OF A MONAGHAN HOTEL.

COURT ORDER DISOBEYED.

Patrick Sherry, of Monaghan, was up further examination. When he was examin by Mr. Edward Kelly (instructed by Mess E. F. Collins and Son), on the 4th inst., admitted that he was adjudicated bankru on his own petition, and that his unsecur liabilities were about £18,000. Part of h property was the Stag Hotel, Monaghan, a two farms adjacent to the town. When t Court messenger went down and took p session of the hotel and adjoining groce store, he went out on the bankrupt's farm to take an inventory of the stock on the While he was there, it was alleged that large portion of the stock in trade at t hotel had been removed. The Court order the sale of the hotel premises, a accepted the offer of Mr. John Mallon, whi was the highest that was received. An ord was made by the Court on the 3rd Apr last that the bankrupt should give up po session to the purchaser, but he disobey that order. He told the Court on Tuesda and again yesterday, that his brother ha sent in to the Court an offer of £1,750, whic was higher than Mr. Mallon's offer, and under the circumstances, he refused to giv up possession.

Asked yesterday who beside himself live in the hotel, he said that his brother and h nephew resided there with him. He positivel refused "under the circumstances" to giv up possession.

Mr. Justice Hanna advised the bankrupt t be reasonable, not to defy the law, and t give up peaceable possession without delay otherwise his lordship would be compelled t send the whole lot of them to jail.

The examination was further adjourned fo a week.

Mr. E. F. Collins said that the purchase felt sore because the false rumour had gone round the country that he had got the hotel at a sacrifice or at a lower price than the bankrupt's brother had offered. There wa no ground for such a statement, and no offe from the brother had been received.

CORK BUILDING SITES.

INTENDED ACTION FOR £11,000.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE O'BYRNE.)

In an intended action, in which the Hibernian Bank, Ltd., are plaintiffs, and Andrew O'Shaughnessy, Alex. J. Magennis, Edward Grace, and James C. Dowdall defendants,

Mr. M. Binchy (instructed by Messrs. Babington, Clarke and Mooney), who appeared for all the defendants, except Edward Grace, applied for an order for the discovery of documents. Counsel said that the intended action was for recovery of the sum of £11,000, alleged to be due to the plaintiffs on foot of a guarantee, dated the 21st June, 1920, given to the plaintiffs to secure banking accommodation to the Cork Building Sites and Construction Company, Ltd.

It appeared from the affidavit of Alexander J. Magennis, South Mall, Cork, incorporated accountant, one of the defendants, that, on Messrs. Henry Ford and Son, Ltd., being formed into a company and opening a motor works in the City of Cork, the plaintiffs were appointed bankers of that firm, and an account was accordingly opened at the Cork branch of the Hibernian Bank, where Mr. H. A. Pelly was and is the manager. The defendants alleged that they were induced by Mr. Pelly to join with him in the formation of, and to become directors with him of, the company known as the Cork Building Sites and Construction Company, Ltd., for the purpose of providing housing accommodation in and about the City of Cork for Messrs. Ford's workers. The plaintiffs, it was stated, had in their possession certain documents, including communications which were alleged to have passed between the plaintiffs and their manager, Mr. H. A. Pelly, and with Mr. Edward Grace, the other defendant.

Mr. Justice O'Byrne made the order for discovery.

LEAVE TO SIT IN THE DAIL.

APPLICATION BY SOLICITOR'S APPRENTICE.

(BEFORE THE CHIEF JUSTICE.)

In the matter of the Solicitors (Ireland) Act, 1898, and an application by John Patrick McCurtin, an apprentice,

Mr. M. J. Ryan (instructed by Messrs. Michael Gleeson and Son) applied on behalf of the apprentice for an order that, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 25, subsection 1 of the Solicitors (Ireland) Act, 1898, he may be at liberty, during the remaining period of his apprenticeship to sit as a duly elected member of Dail Eireann.

Counsel moved on an affidavit of Mr. L. P. Gleeson, solicitor, of Nenagh, County Tipperary, which stated that by indenture of apprenticeship dated 22nd January, 1919, John Patrick McCurtin, of Castle street, Nenagh, became bound to him as an apprentice for the full term of five years, or for such smaller or lesser term for which he might only be obliged to serve by reason of the remission of any portion under any of the several statutory grounds. Mr. McCurtin became exempt from passing the preliminary examination, and in October, 1920, passed the Intermediate examination. On the 13th March, 1922, he was sentenced at Enniskillen, in Northern Ireland, to a term of imprisonment for ten years. On the 26th January last, he being for the entire period in the interval in custody, was released under an arrangement affecting a class of political prisoners of which he was regarded as being one, and was now, in consequence, in a position, and was anxious to complete the remaining period of his apprenticeship, and to qualify as a solicitor and to practise in Saorstat Eireann. In the interval, and while he was in custody, he was elected as a member of Dail Eireann for the constituency of Tipperary at the General Elections for that body, held in August, 1923, and had recently taken the oath and sat in that assembly, and desired, with the approval and sanction of the Court, to continue and sit as such member, and to draw the salary or other allowances or emoluments to which his position as such entitled him, notwithstanding the provisions contained in Section 25, sub-Section 1 of the Solicitors (Ireland) Act, 1898.

Mr. Wakely, solicitor, Secretary of the Incorporated Law Society, said that Mr. McCurtin was going to serve from now till next October. There was no final examination till then. That covered everything, so that his Lordship's sanction was all that was wanted. The Law Society offered no objection. "There must be your Lordship's sanction," he added, "I don't want every apprentice to go into the Dail." (Laughter.)

The Chief Justice said that he did not want to make this decision as to whether a member of the Dail came within the section, but he would make the order, qualifying it by saying, "Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary," and if anyone wanted to discuss it anytime hereafter, it could be discussed. He thought that this was a proper case. Mr. McCurtin was entirely a political prisoner.

ELECTRICITY SUPPLY BILLS

COSTS OF OPPOSITION.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE SULLIVAN AND MR. JUSTICE O'BYRNE.)

In the cases of Richard Claude Cane, landowner and retired Colonel of the British Army, of Alen's Grove, Celbridge, Co. Kildare, against the Corporation of Dublin (now Borough Commissioners), and the same against the Liffey Syndicate, Ltd., an application was made on behalf of the defendants for an order, giving them leave to plead by way of defence to the plaintiff's claim, as endorsed on the writ of summons, relating to the costs of opposing three bills for the supply of electricity promoted by the Corporation and others.

The plaintiff claimed the sum of £437 4s. 1d. and £68 1s. 10d. from the defendants, being portion of his costs of opposing the East Leinster Electricity Supply Bill, 1924; the Dublin Electricity Supply Bill, 1924; and the Dublin and District Electricity Supply Bill, 1924, which, the plaintiff alleged, the defendants were ordered to pay to him by the report of the Joint Committee of the Oireachtas, of which Senator S. L. Brown, K.C., was Chairman.

Mr. Phelps, K.C., and Mr. Kingsmill Moore (instructed by Messrs. Carruthers and Gamble), appeared for the plaintiff in both cases; Mr. Wood, K.C., and Mr. Philip O'C. White (instructed by Mr. Ignatius J. Rice), for the Corporation, the defendants in the first case; and Mr. Wood, K.C., and Mr. E. S. Kelly (instructed by Messrs. Sheridan and Kelly), for the Liffey Syndicate, Ltd., the defendants in the second case.

Mr. Wood, K.C., who made the application, in the concluding portion of his argument, submitted that the Joint Committee of the Dail and Senate that had made the report mentioned had no legal existence, because it was unauthorised by the Constitution of the Free State, and that the standing order constituting the Joint Committee was ultra vires.

The Court, in consequence of the question raised by Mr. Wood, adjourned the case for further argument upon the point, directing that notice should be given to the Attorney-General, to afford him an opportunity of being heard. The application was accordingly adjourned.

SALE OF A FARM.

INTERESTING CASE AT DUNGARVAN.

The defence raised in an action for the specific performance of a sale of land, which came before Judge Sealy at the Dungarvan Circuit Court, was that the defendant was addicted to drink and was in consequence of weak intellect. He had refused an offer £200 higher than the price agreed to between the plaintiff and himself. It would be a great hardship for the wife and their four children to be turned out of the place, as there was no alternative accommodation for them.

The plaintiff was Thomas Wade, farmer, and the defendant Matthew Barry, both parties living within a few miles of the town.

Judge Sealy held that there was no doubt whatever that Barry knew what he was doing when the deed of assignment was drawn up. He thought that the price given for the farm was fair, but at the same time he had to consider that the wife, if turned out, had nowhere else to go. He would not give a decree for specific performance, but would award the plaintiff £115, with costs.

WRITE

for new illustrated folder of the latest Ford open and closed cars.

£215—Two hundred and fifteen pounds! Did you know that an amply-powered, beautifully finished 5-seater sedan can be yours for a little more than £200? Perhaps you know the price, but do not realise what wonderful value for money these latest Fords represent. Look at the picture. Or, better still, see the car itself in any Authorised Ford Dealer's showrooms. Here is all the luxury of closed car motoring at less than the price of most open tourers. And the Tudor has all the recent Ford improvements — all-steel body, wider, lower, deeply cushioned seats, increased leg-room, raked steering wheel, bigger brakes, and a host of other improvements. Finished in Coach Green, Carmine Lake or Moleskin Grey—£215.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

We print to-day excerpts from the Dail Accounts Committee's report on the claims arising out of certain purchases of arms and chemicals for the Free State Army.—(Page 11.)

The debate on the Army vote was continued in the Dail yesterday, and all amendments to reduce the amount of the estimate were defeated.—(Page 8.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

There is no material change in the strike situation. The Government announces that it intends to deal firmly with any intimidation.—(Page 7.)

SPORTING.

At Leopardstown yesterday Kildarra Boy won the Shankill Hurdle Race, Tag End the Stillorgan T.Y.O. Plate, Dunlavin Lass the Spring Plate, Minervus the Pavilion Plate, East Galway the Newtown Plate, and Dux Americanus the Tower Plate.—(Page 10.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were steady, and the tone was confident. Except in one or two directions, however, prices were somewhat easier.—(Page 12.)

Conditions in Lombard street were quite normal, and short loans went on at 4½ down to 3½ per cent. Discounts were firmer on the higher Treasury bill rate. The New York exchange improved.—(Page 12.)

Dublin Market was steady, with prices moving irregularly. Bank Stock lost a point. Land Bonds improved.—(Page 12.)

The Happy Warrior.

In his hours of wealth and ease the Englishman is not always a lovable character. He is bluff of speech and does not readily accommodate himself to other people's circumstances; as a traveller in foreign parts he is more popular, indeed, than the American, but less popular than the Irishman. It is in adversity, stolidly endured for the sake of some national ideal, that the Englishman shines. Adversity of this sort makes him a dauntless soldier in the field and the most formidable, because the best-tempered, of all defenders of civic liberty. To-day for the second time in ten years England, who least of all nations angles for the world's applause, is getting a full measure of it. The Great Strike has summoned once more to the surface those high qualities of head and heart which the Great War had evoked on a still larger stage. By the judgment of poetry and history moral balance in times of great crisis is the finest of national virtues. Horace called it æquam mentem rebus in arduis, and Englishmen, more than any people since the Romans themselves, possess this virtue of equanimity. It consists in the steady and unflustered maintenance of the hundred and one common virtues of daily life in moments when the practice of even the meanest of those virtues is an act of heroism. At present, in an emergency which already might have plunged other States into chaos, the English people are "carrying on" with the unconscious grandeur of Wordsworth's happy warrior, who

> "through the heat of conflict keeps the law
> In calmness made and sees what he foresaw,
> Or, if an unexpected call succeed,
> Come when it will, is equal to the need."

Organised Labour's blow has taken the shape of a simultaneous attack from many directions upon the intensely complicated machinery of the national life. The Government by its own efforts could not have averted, and could not have survived, this blow. It is the people who, by their quiet and matter-of-fact refusal to be stampeded, are saving the vital interests for which the Government stands. They are countering the strike measures with the astonishing versatility which they showed in the Great War, and, where hardship is inevitable, they are enduring it with a patience and good humour for which the only precedents are in their own history. The disorders which have been reported during the last two days cannot be ignored, but they serve to lift into higher contrast the imperturbable good temper and good sense of the nation as a whole. In what other country would thousands of volunteers have presented themselves from the first moment, with such little fuss and such prompt efficiency, for the manning of essential services? What other people would have resisted the instinct of panic which responds so swiftly to the lack of news? In what other city than London would countless workers make a joke of a ten-mile walk twice a day between their homes and their desks?

The average Irishman—indeed, we think the average Englishman—has no very clear notion of the merits of the miners' dispute. It is such a technical business that he finds himself in a somewhat similar position to that Feis Ceoil adjudicator who yesterday heard candidates sing in Irish to the Irish harp, making his first acquaintance with the Irish harp and having no knowledge of the Irish language. There are first principles in art, however, which enabled Professor Granville Bantock to reach a just decision, and there are first principles in politics. So long as the miners' claims were a question of argument the English people were impartial watchers of the dispute; and they will be impartial again from the moment when the issue is brought back to terms of argument. A challenge to the very existence of the State is another matter; and it is the challenge of the Trade Union Congress, not the case for the coal-owners or the merits of the Government itself, that has surrounded the fortress of the State with a vast and living barrier of citizenship. The national instinct was quick to see that not merely the Government, but government itself—all the time-honoured institutions, all the age-long security, all the right to prosper by work of hand and brain, all the freedom that has broadened slowly down from precedent to precedent—stood in dire menace from organised Labour's attempt to subdue the nation to its will. For these rights Englishmen are as ready to-day to make every sacrifice as they were when the same rights were threatened in a different fashion, formerly by France and again by Germany. Again, too, they are making their sacrifice in the simple unquestioning way of men

> "whose master-bias leans
> To homefelt pleasures and to gentle scenes."

The present crisis finds England singularly fortunate in her Prime Minister. Mr. Baldwin may not be a great statesman in the dramatic sense; no doubt, he lacks that indefinable touch of genius which has given the halo of history to Pitt, Disraeli and Gladstone. None of his predecessors, however, has a surer conception of his country's genius, a profounder faith in her destinies, a better knowledge of her people's needs and wishes. The temper which inspires England to-day is revealed in every page of his latest book, although that book has no concern with politics. England knows that Mr. Baldwin has made, and will make, every effort for industrial peace; but she knows also that, so long as the fight continues, her cause will be safe in his hands, and she knows how, under his leadership, the fight will end.

The Feis Ceoil.

The Dublin Feis Ceoil, which comes to an end to-day, has achieved a remarkable success. Not only were the entries this year larger than ever they were previously, but a very high standard of musical merit was reached in nearly all the competitions. The Feis Ceoil is one of the few institutions in this country that have weathered every storm in recent years, and have gone from triumph to triumph in spite of all the distractions and upheavals of the difficult times through which our island has passed. It has set an admirable example to the rest of Ireland, with the result that the progress of musical art has made tremendous strides in places like Sligo and Londonderry, where the annual Feiseanna attract steadily growing numbers of young musicians. A glance through the programme of this year's Dublin competitions shows that the tests were chosen with much care, and their wide variety constitutes a splendid tribute to the work of those devoted men and women who have done so much to advance the cause of music in Ireland since the Feis Ceoil was established more than twenty years ago. The adjudicators were the best of their kind that could be obtained. The enormous pains which they took in their work made an excellent impression on everybody who attended the competitions, and the addresses delivered by Professor Granville Bantock, one of England's most distinguished musicians, are likely to be of very great benefit to students of singing in this country. Since the Feis Ceoil began music has been taken seriously in Ireland. The intense, but friendly, rivalry between the earnest amateurs who enter for the competitions has encouraged intelligent study of the greatest works; and the days of the young lady whose solitary "piece" was "The Maiden's Prayer" have gone, we are glad to say, for ever.

Curiously enough, while in many ways Dublin is, probably, the most keenly musical city in the British Isles, it has neither an orchestra nor a concert hall. There is no lack of first-class musical talent. Every year's Feis Ceoil reveals a wealth of fine performers, instrumental as well as vocal; but the city as a whole seems content to lag behind towns with half its resources in England and Scotland. What happens to all the young artists whom one hears with such delight at the Feis Ceoil? The winning of a gold medal in one of the major competitions ought to be the beginning of a musical career, whereas in all too many cases we fear that it proves to be the end. The public flocks to good concerts. During the admirable season which is provided by the Royal Dublin Society a seat is almost impossible to procure, and when an opera company comes to the Gaiety Theatre it plays every night to a packed house. The Army Band has proved that the "heaviest" Wagnerian fare can be appreciated by the man in the street or in the park. Yet, despite repeated efforts to form a municipal orchestra, virtually no progress has been made. Of course, good music cannot be provided for nothing. The city that wants a first-class orchestra must be prepared to pay for it. Musicians, like ordinary mortals, have wives and families to maintain, and the myth of the long-haired youth playing masterpieces in a garret has been exploded long ago. It is high time that Dublin should have its orchestra, and that it should take its rightful place among the musical cities of Europe. The country must make it worth while for its artists to remain within its shores. Everybody at present wants to call the tune; but very few are prepared to pay the piper.

War in Morocco.

Hostilities have been resumed in Morocco. Yesterday it was announced that peace negotiations between the French and Spanish allies on the one hand, and the Riff rebels on the other, had broken down, and the tidings that a new attack had been launched against Abdel Krim's tribesmen followed swiftly. Peace was offered by the European allies upon terms which proposed that the sovereignty of the Sultan should be recognised by the rebels, that Abdel Krim should go into exile, and that the tribes should be disarmed. If these conditions were accepted the autonomy of the Riff territory would be admitted. The tribesmen were not satisfied with the limited freedom thus tendered. They demanded an independent Morocco. They were quite unwilling to exile their leader, and would not agree to disarmament except in circumstances which would render it a matter of no importance. The two positions thus were irreconcilable, and, rather than yield to the demands of the Allies, the tribesmen invoked once more the arbitrament of war. A desperate or fanatical confidence appears to animate men who thus challenge two great Powers to a trial of strength and will; but it may be that Abdel Krim's intransigeance is based upon a shrewd estimate of the international position. It may be that the general strike in Britain now has influenced his action. The trouble on one side of the British Channel has precipitated fresh difficulties on the other; and the headlong fall of the franc has weakened the military party in France in the prosecution of an unpopular struggle. A peace settlement which spared the Riffs the humiliation of their leader's exile might have been reached this week; and, if France's financial position should grow more intensely uncomfortable, Spain yet might find her ally ready to shorten the war by giving the stubborn tribesmen more than was offered and rejected.

Animal Week.

Before the general strike scattered confusion on the plans of men lovers of animals had arranged to hold demonstrations, beginning to-morrow, on the same lines as those of "animal week" last year. Throughout Great Britain and Ireland clergy were asked to speak to the congregations upon the theme of Christian men's duty of mercy towards the brute creation, and an appeal was made to teachers to address their pupils upon the same subject. It was proposed to hold flag-days in order to raise funds—which in Ireland would be distributed among the various societies interested in animal welfare—and to carry out a vigorous campaign of propaganda intended to arouse public opinion. These plans will be pursued as far as circumstances permit. It is fitting that, in the midst of distress and anxiety, men and women should spare a thought for the lower creation, whose lot is so often one of suffering. We hope, therefore, that persons who realise how sorely reform is needed in the treatment of animals in our country—whether upon the highway and on the farm, where thoughtlessness causes so much unnecessary pain, or on the fair green and in the railway wagon and cattle ship, where brutal methods still sometimes linger—will do what in them lies to make "animal week" a success.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

Colonel the Right Hon. Walter Guinness, Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries, had an audience with the King at Buckingham Palace yesterday, and His Majesty also received Sir Claude Hamilton Archer Hill, who has just been appointed Lieutenant-Governor of the Isle of Man, in succession to Major-General Sir William Fry, K.C.V.O. Sir Frank Heath, Secretary of the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, was received by the King yesterday.

Intercession Services will be held daily in Westminster Abbey during the national crisis, at the hours of 12.30 and 3.40 p.m.

The Marquis and Marchioness of Northampton have left Compton Wynyates, Warwickshire, for London, where they have taken a house in Seamore place, S.W., for two months. Later in the summer they will spend some time at Loch Luichart Lodge, in Ross-shire, where they have good shooting and fishing.

Many members were expected at the Royal Yacht Squadron this week, but, owing to the strike, very few found their way to Cowes, where many yachts are now in commission, and are awaiting the arrival of their owners.

Among numerous postponements necessitated by the strike are the dinner and reception arranged for next Tuesday night by the Gloucestershire Society in London. This annual reunion is very popular, and invariably attracts a very large gathering. The dinner connected with the Newspaper Press Fund was also fixed for Tuesday evening, and has now been postponed.

The Marchioness of Headfort and Lady Millicent Taylour were the guests of Lady Weldon at Kilmorony, Athy, for Punchestown Races. Captain and Lady Dorothie Moore were included in Sir Henry and Lady Greer's party at Curragh Grange. Lord Osborne Beauclerk returned to Newtown Anner on Thursday from Dublin.

Lord Dunalley, who has just returned from London, is now at Nenagh, and has been inspecting the nearly completed building of Kilboy, his residence in Co. Tipperary, which was burned down in 1922. It is expected that Lord and Lady Dunalley will shortly be able to occupy their old home, which has been in the possession of the family for many generations.

Viscount Cecil of Chelwood is leaving London to-day for Geneva to attend an important meeting for the reconsideration of the composition of the League of Nations Council.

The marriage arranged between Percy A. Walker, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Walker, of 84 South Circular road, Kilmainham, Dublin, and Katharine, younger daughter of Consul-General Edward L. Adams (retired) and Mrs. Adams, of Elmira, New York, will take place in June next.

A marriage has been arranged, and will take place at Rangoon in July, between Frank Buckney, Imperial Customs Service, and Violet Eileen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beamish Morrison, of Arkendale road, Kingstown.

LONDON LETTER.

PARLIAMENT AND THE STRIKE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
FRIDAY NIGHT.

The House of Commons was one of the quietest places in the country to-day; for comparatively few members were present, and the galleries were empty, with the exception of the Public Gallery, containing about a score of people. A number of the officials of the House have taken up residence there, having been provided with sleeping accommodation in some of the disused apartments. This is a distinct relief to many of them, since attendance at the House of Commons entails walking home in the small hours, an experience that is unsought by anybody at the present moment.

The Executive of the Miners' Federation was holding sittings to-day at its offices in Russell square, and had consultations with the Trade Union Congress Council. Meetings of the Trade Union Congress Council were also taking place at the headquarters of the Labour Party in Eccleston square, and it is said that the Council is in almost constant session, receiving reports from all parts of the country regarding the situation. It is denied that any approaches have been made by, or to, the miners to open negotiations, and it is evidently correct in view of the statement of the Government that it will not resume negotiations until the strike is called off. It is certain, however, that the moderate element among the Labour leaders is still seeking for a formula which will enable the party to go to the Government again.

A Stern Struggle.

There were no rumours of peace or resumed negotiations at Westminster today, and in Parliamentary circles none is expected at present. Both sides seem to have settled down for the struggle, and little or no change in the situation is expected before next week. Whether the absence of wages at the week-end will make any difference in the situation is difficult to say, but the strike pay offered in most cases can be but a poor substitute for the money that would have been earned. I passed a group of railway pickets this morning leaning against the railings of a station. They looked utterly miserable, and had no spirit to respond to the jokes and gibes thrown at them. Once there is a strong lead to return to work there will be a landslide; for thousands of strikers are opposed to the strike, though they dare not say so openly.

Mr. Baldwin.

The Conservative rank and file at Westminster remain firmly united in the conviction that the general strike must be cancelled unconditionally before any advance towards peace can be considered. The whole party is enthusiastically behind the Prime Minister, and the personal prestige of Mr. Baldwin stands higher than it has ever stood. The enthusiastic demonstration given to him when he entered the House of Commons on Monday afternoon was a tribute seldom paid to the party leader, and was designed more as a vote of confidence than for any other purpose. It is not saying too much to assert that whatever action the Prime Minister may feel compelled to take he will receive the enthusiastic support of his party, and probably that of the Liberals as well.

The Legal View.

A speech made by Sir John Simon in the House of Commons during the early hours of this morning has made a very marked impression on members of Parliament. Sir John Simon, who is, of course, a great expert on legal matters, pointed out that the strikers could be sued for breach of contract owing to the strike being declared without notice to employers. This opens up a very wide prospect, and, in a sense, affects decisions made under the Trade Disputes Acts. It does not seem certain whether the worker and his leaders alone can be sued, or whether the tort could also be laid at the door of the trade unions. The Government attaches considerable importance to the statement, and at once made arrangements to have the point submitted to the Law Officers of the Crown. Copies of the speech were hastily transcribed and conveyed to the members of the Cabinet.

The Buckrose Election

The result of the Buckrose election, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Sir Guy Gaunt, a Conservative, has been a source of great satisfaction to the Government and its supporters. There is a large working class element in the constituency, and it was not at all certain that they would support the constitutional parties owing to the general strike. The contrary proved to be the fact, however, and the Socialist candidate polled so few votes that he forfeited the deposit paid on nomination, and that, despite the tremendous efforts made by the Socialists to secure the seat. Major Braithwaite, the new member, intends to take his seat in the House of Commons on Monday next, but he will return to Yorkshire immediately afterwards to take up service as a voluntary, but practical, engine-driver.

"The Times."

The Times appeared this morning as an ordinary newspaper. It is true that it is a sheet of only four pages, but there is a good display of advertisements. There was a great demand for copies, but a considerable number were circulated in the suburbs hitherto without a newspaper of any importance during the strike. It is unfortunate that the British Gazette cannot be circulated more widely, but that deficiency, perhaps, may be made good in the course of the next day or two. Several other papers appeared in a typewritten and foolscap form, and all had a good sale at usual prices.

London's Humour.

The streets of London were extremely quiet to-day, and there were no rumours of disturbances. Since Tuesday not an hour had been without its story of attacks on vehicles or attempted rioting, but today there was virtually none. In the City and West End things were almost as usual, except that the omnibuses were fewer and the Embankment lacked its string of tramcars. Employers generally are exercising a very wise discrimination, and many are taking their staffs home by motor or putting them down at a central point near their homes. In many offices the workers are serving alternate days, in order that they may have an opportunity of recovering from long walks, while early closing is general.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—Pressure remains high over the North-East Atlantic. A secondary depression now over Southern England will pass away south-eastwards, with a temporary improvement in its rear, but a new secondary is already indicated north of Iceland, and will move south-east.

Ireland.—Northerly winds, moderate or fresh, strong locally; mainly fair, but local showers of rain or hail; visibility good; cold.

S.W. Seaboard, Mouth of Channel to South-West Ireland; Irish Sea and St. George's Channel.—Wind northerly, moderate to strong; local showers; visibility good; sea moderate to rather rough.

N.W. Seaboard.—Wind northerly, backing west, moderate; fair at first, apart from local showers, perhaps rain later; visibility mainly good; sea moderate.

ALL INTIMIDATION TO BE REPRESSED.

GOVERNMENT'S ORDER.

ATTEMPTS TO HOLD-UP THE SUPPLIES OF FOOD.

50,000 "SPECIALS" IN LONDON.

OVER 2,000 TRAINS RUNNING: BETTER 'BUS SERVICES.

No negotiations. No serious disorders, but situation becoming intense. Orders sent by labour leaders to paralyse the supply of food and necessities of life.

Official Statement on the Situation.

The following official statement on the situation is issued by the British Government:—

No serious disorder has occurred in any part of the country.

The work of feeding the people, and of maintaining light and power and essential communications is being successfully accomplished.

Over 2,000 trains were run on Thursday, or nearly double the day before. A further substantial improvement, both on the main lines and in the London metropolitan and suburban services, is arranged for to-day.

The protection of 'buses in London proved yesterday most satisfactory, and they are constantly increasing in numbers. Nevertheless, as was to be expected, the situation is becoming more intense, and the climax is not yet reached.

Orders have been sent by the leaders of the railway and transport trade unions to do their utmost to paralyse and break-down the supply of food and the necessaries of life. Intimidation, both by disorderly crowds and picketing, has occurred in many places, and may soon occur in many more. His Majesty's Government have directed all authorities to repress and overcome these criminal obstructions.

The recruitment of special constables in all parts of the country is being vigorously and rapidly pressed forward.

It is proposed to raise the numbers of special constables in London as quickly as possible to 50,000. Other important measures to increase the forces at the disposal of the Government, and to enable widespread protection to be afforded, are also being taken.

An organised attempt is being made to starve the people and to wreck the State, and the legal and constitutional aspects are entering upon a new phase.

The newspaper services are steadily improving.

No Negotiations: Labour Leaders' Statement.

The General Council of the Trades Union Congress states that no official or unofficial overtures have been made to the Government. "The General Council," it is added, "have had no direct or indirect communication with the Government since they sent their emphatic letter of protest against the Cabinet's wanton action in wrecking the peace discussions that were proceeding. The position of the General Council may be stated in simple and unequivocal terms. They are ready at any moment to enter into preliminary discussions regarding the withdrawal of the lock-out notices and the ending of the general stoppage, and the resumption of negotiations for an honourable settlement of the mining dispute. These preliminary discussions must be free from any condition."

5 per cent. General Levy for Strike Fund.

All workers who are still employed are being called upon to contribute 5 per cent. of their wages to the strike fund.

Offer to Maintain Power and Food Supplies.

Mr. Poulton, the Labour Publicity Chairman, last night said that the Government had been offered the services of unions for maintaining food supplies, and that offer was still open.

The local strike organisations have been authorised to meet employers immediately and to offer to supply electricity and gas for various services, including street, shop and house lighting, and power for bakeries, laundries and domestic purposes. The reports that instructions had been sent to cut off gas supplies, it is declared, are entirely unauthorised.

FOOD SUPPLIES ATTACKED.

SERIOUS VIEW TAKEN BY GOVERNMENT.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Friday.

I understand to-night that the Government is taking a very serious view of the attacks reported from different parts of the country upon food supplies, and inclines to the opinion that further steps than those already taken may be necessary.

Any great disorganisation of the food supplies will certainly result in trouble, and this the Government will be prepared to meet, but it proposes to avert the possibility if it can be done. In view of the fact that there may be great gatherings of people during the week-end, shopkeepers in the East End are barricading their shops in order to protect their property from accident.

The situation, it is to be feared, is entering upon a new and dangerous phase.

LONDON THEATRES.

MANY WILL STILL CARRY ON.

Londoners are reaching the theatres in considerable numbers, but not sufficiently large to prevent heavy loss to those that remain open. While the losses are not greater than expenses theatres will continue to "carry on."

TOURNAMENT POSTPONED.

The Army and Navy tournament at Olympia has been postponed from May 20th to July 8th.

POWER SUPPLIES.

Lott's road power station, by which the greater part of the London Underground service is operated, is staffed by volunteers, and is now able to respond to all demands made upon it for current.

The employés at the Fulham Electricity Works went out without notice yesterday afternoon, and shut down the whole plant before they could be prevented from doing so. By the prompt action of the staff full supplies were in operation within one hour of the shut down.

The St. Pancras dustmen, who have been on an unauthorised strike for two days, returned to work yesterday morning.

TRAMS RESUMING.

An increased number of trams, operated by volunteers, were running in several parts of London yesterday, and further services will be reopened to-day.

The Underground Railways and the London General Omnibus Companies have provided hostels for over 6,000 volunteers.

Pitchers—men who unload meat at Smithfield market—returned to work yesterday afternoon.

ABROAD.

SOVIET MONEY FOR THE STRIKERS.

The following messages have been received from Reuter's correspondents:—

AMSTERDAM.—The International Federation of Trades Unions yesterday remitted £1,000 to the Trades Union Congress as a first instalment of assistance for the strikers.

MOSCOW.—The General Council of Trade Unions of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics has transferred two million roubles to the British General Council of the Trades Union Congress. This is the second instalment of the collection which is being made amongst the Soviet unions for the assistance of the British strikers. Subscriptions are still coming in.

WASHINGTON.—Mr. Green, the President of the American Federation of Labour, is to lay before the Executive Council the question of giving financial aid to the British strikers.

BOMBAY.—The All-India Trade Union Congress has cabled £200 to the British Trade Union Congress, and has also circularised its affiliated unions requesting contributions to assist the strike.

OTTAWA.—Mr. Draper, the Secretary of the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada, stated that, should the general strike in Britain last another week, an appeal will be issued in Canada for funds.

NO INTERFERENCE DECISION.

JOHANNESBURG.—The Executive of the Typographical Union warns its members against taking any notice of the appeal made to the printers not to print any matter calculated to damage the cause of the British strikers. The Executive declares that their national agreement precludes any such action. The benefit which would accrue to the British workers, it is added, would not compensate for wrecking the agreement, which has not only worked satisfactorily for years, but has also created a bond of mutual agreement, and has guaranteed contentment and peace, which could not otherwise have been assured.

CAPETOWN.—Various labour bodies throughout the Union are passing resolutions, and urging that an appeal should be made for funds for the strikers.

BELGIAN HELP.

ANTWERP.—The Transport Workers' Executive have prohibited the loading of ships not regularly taking coal from the port. The Executive have also decided that cargoes that would presumably not come to Antwerp in normal times shall not be unloaded.

ROTTERDAM COAL TRADE BOOMING.

AMSTERDAM.—Coal freights to the Mediterranean have been reduced 15 per cent. owing to the great number of coal vessels, usually loading in the Tyne and the Bristol Channel, now loading at Rotterdam. In spite of the rush the tonnage available is so great that freights have slumped. Ruhr quotations for coal for Rotterdam delivery have increased 3s. per ton. The price of bunker coal in the new waterway for ships in ballast, has risen from 15s. to 16s. last week to 24s. 6d., and for loaded ships from 17s. to 26s.

STRIKERS TO "KEEP SMILING."

The British Worker (the Labour strike bulletin) gives the following advice to strikers:—"Do what you can to keep everybody smiling. The way to do that is to smile yourself. Do your best to discountenance any ideas of violent or disorderly conduct. Do what you can to improve your health; a good walk every day will keep you fit. Do something—hanging about swapping rumours is bad every way."

Arrival of the Mail Boat at Kingstown last night.

MORE INCIDENTS

BATON CHARGES AT CARDIFF AND HULL.

WOMEN INJURED.

A NUMBER of minor disturbances occurred yesterday in various districts, the most serious being at Hull and Cardiff, where the police made baton charges to restore order.

Disturbances appear to be sporadic, and due to the less responsible section of the community, says an official statement last night. In some cases the police have received assistance in the maintenance of order from trade union leaders.

TROOPS UNLOAD SHIPS.

Police made a baton charge upon strikers in the City square at Hull yesterday afternoon. Pickets were hostile towards the volunteers recruiting at the City Hall, and mounted police arrived to disperse the crowd, which numbered between three and four thousand. Batons were drawn, and in the charge seven persons were injured and treated at the infirmary. Police reinforcements cleared the square. One or two arrests were made. Naval men were landed to protect the volunteers discharging the food ships, and soldiers were sent to King George Dock for the unloading of other vessels.

WOMEN INJURED.

Failing to suppress the strikers, who were interfering with the volunteer driver of a motor 'bus at Cardiff, the police were ordered to draw their batons and charge. Some women were trampled on in the stampede, and and two men had to be surgically attended. One arrest was made.

"RULE BRITANNIA."

The Strike Committee has requested strikers not to sing "The Red Flag" in the streets, as it is not palatable to everyone. Strikers yesterday marched to Folkestone, and on their return to Dover sang "Rule Britannia."

PARIS.—The Executive of the General Confederation of Labour has approved of the measures taken to prevent all exports to England calculated to prolong the resistance of the forces ranged against the strikers. Arrangements were also made for forwarding financial assistance.

BERLIN.—The General Federation of Trade Unions decided to give financial support to the British strikers by means of voluntary contributions.

Glasgow.—The position yesterday was comparatively quiet, and more 'buses and trams were running. Sixty-six young men, who were arrested in connection with the disturbances at the tram dépôt, were brought before the magistrates and remanded.

Chesterfield.—Three men were sentenced to imprisonment, with hard labour, for window-smashing. The men stated that they wanted to be sent to prison until the strike ended.

Leeds.—Attempts to stop the trams have been frustrated by baton charges by the police. Eleven persons were brought before the magistrate, one being sentenced to three months' imprisonment, with hard labour.

Sheffield.—Tramway pickets made several attempts to stop chars-à-banc and other vehicles. A passenger was struck on the head by a bottle.

Hull.—Strike disturbances occurred in the city square yesterday, and the police were obliged to make a baton charge. Several people were injured, and seven cases were treated at the infirmary.

Bristol.—Disturbances and attempts at intimidation are few, and the opposition of strike pickets to food lorries is decreasing. A destroyer has arrived in the port.

Poole.—An incident occurred at Poole when the driver was pulled off a tramcar. He was protected by the police and continued driving.

THE ARMY AND THE STRIKE.

RUMOURS OFFICIALLY DENIED

The following message was broadcast last night by the War Office:—"Rumours continue to be circulated to the effect that, firstly, the Army has come to the end of its resources; secondly, that the Army Reserve has been called up; thirdly, that troops have been ordered on strike duty, but have refused to obey the order.

"We are requested by the War Office to notify, for general information, that, with the exception of guards for a few vulnerable points in Great Britain, no troops have yet been called up in aid of the civil power, but, as previously stated, certain units have been moved to districts to be available if their services are required. The spirit of the troops is excellent. The Army Reserve has not been called up."

SAILORS' AND FIREMEN'S UNION.

ANOTHER INJUNCTION.

On the application of counsel, Mr. Justice Lawrence, in the Chancery Division, London, yesterday, granted an interim injunction, until Tuesday, restraining officials of the Mersey area and the Liverpool branches of the National Sailors' and Firemen's Union, affiliated to the Trades Union Congress, from calling upon members to leave their employment without the authority of the Executive. As in the Tower Hill Branch case, on Thursday, counsel pointed out that no strike could be proclaimed without the consent of a two-thirds majority, obtained by ballot, and he added that the ballot was now in progress. An affidavit in support of the injunction, by Mr. Havelock Wilson, was read.

SHIPPING NEWS.

Liverpool.—Crews of liners signing on and the dockers complain that they were called out without a ballot being taken. Ten vessels arrived and ten left. The loading and unloading of foodstuffs is proceeding smoothly.

Southampton.—Five liners arrived at, and a similar number sailed from, Southampton yesterday. Two thousand passengers were cleared at the port.

Fleetwood.—Steamship services between Fleetwood and Belfast resumed. Fishing steamers are being coaled and returning to sea.

FIRST MAIL BOAT.

OVER 500 BAGS OF LETTERS REACH KINGSTOWN.

A HITCH.

ONLY PASSENGERS CARRIED THIS MORNING.

THE Hibernia, the first mail boat to reach Kingstown since Monday night, arrived at the pierhead at 10.27 p.m. last night with:—

540 Bags of letters (100 per cent. over the usual number) and 78 Bags of parcels.

The dockers at the pier, who are members of the National Union of Railwaymen, refused to tie up the boat, and the task was performed by a number of persons who were on the pier. They also ran the gangways aboard without much delay.

A train sent to the Carlisle Pier to meet the boat and take the passengers and mails to Dublin was withdrawn from the pier about three-quarters of an hour before the boat arrived, and consequently no mails were unloaded from the vessel last night. They remained locked up in the mail hold until to-day, when they will probably be taken to Dublin by motor and delivered on Monday morning.

The mails for England, which were to have been taken by the R.M.S. Scotia, which was due to sail from Kingstown at 6 a.m. this morning, it was officially announced last night, will not be shipped owing to the action of the railwaymen and the dockers.

Only passengers will be carried. About two hundred first-class passengers and sixty third-class passengers slept aboard the boat last night.

NOT TO EXTEND.

In an interview with an Irish Times representative last night on the pier at Kingstown, Mr. Waters, Secretary of the Dublin Branch of the National Union of Railwaymen, stated that their object in taking this action was to localise the effect as regards the strike to Kingstown. He believed that the strike would not extend to the rest of Ireland.

WHY MAILS WERE NOT HANDLED.

STATEMENT BY LOCAL MANGER OF THE L.M.S.R.

In an interview with an Irish Times representative, last night, aboard the R.M.S. Hibernia, Mr. McDowell, the general manager of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company in Dublin, stated:—

"At about 11 o'clock this morning, Mr. Waters, the Secretary of the Irish Branch of the National Union of Railwaymen, Dublin, informed me officially that he was astounded to learn that the L.M.S. Company had reinstated their mail service. I informed him in turn that this company was simply resuming the services as usual; that is carrying mails and passenger only and nothing else.

"He notified me that he considered that the service should be withdrawn, or otherwise he would be forced to consider the question of withdrawing the labour at Kingstown Pier.

"Mr. Waters was then asked to let the L.M.S. Company know as soon as possible what the decision of his Union would be; but it was only at 10 p.m. that he notified me over the telephone that the men at the Pier would not work.

"Having regard to the issues involved, if the decision arrived at by the Union had been communicated to the L.M.S. Company earlier in the evening, they would have got sufficient notice to get things right in an endeavour to assist the passengers, who were unaware of the position of things on this side of the Channel, and some of whom were strangers at Kingstown.

"The result has been that many passengers have suffered great inconvenience, some of them having to remain on board the ship, others having to carry their heavy luggage through the streets to Kingstown Station, and of finding the best means they could of reaching their destination, or of finding accommodation in Kingstown."

"NO ILL-FEELING."

The dockers made no attempt to interfere while volunteers assisted in docking the boat. After most of the passengers had left the pier the men congregated outside the Customs offices, and Mr. McDowell, manager of the L.M.S. Company, Dublin, asked them to leave the pier, and said that he hoped that there was no ill-feeling. They all replied unanimously that there was not. Mr. McDowell then said "good-night" to the men, who left the pier.

Amongst those who slept aboard the R.M.S. Scotia last night were Monsieur Paravicini, the Swiss Minister in London, and Madame Paravicini, Lady Pilkington, the Hon. Mrs. Lawrence Broderick, Hon. Mrs. Clease, and Lady Keye.

ARRIVAL AT WESTLAND ROW.

Between eighty and one hundred passengers off the mail boat arrived in Westland Row Station, Dublin, last night, by two ordinary trains, which arrived at 11.20 and 11.45 p.m. There was a noticeable absence of any heavy luggage accompanying the travellers.

Describing their journey from London to Holyhead, several passengers said that it was fairly good running until they got into Anglesea, where the train had to be stopped at several level crossings, and the engine driver had to get out and open the gates, and

IRISH MARKET SLUMP.

CHEAPER EGGS, PORK, BUTTER AND FISH.

FARMERS HIT.

PRICES of food-stuffs have slumped heavily both in the Free State and Northern Ireland, owing to the fact that buyers for the British markets have been unable to obtain transport facilities. The products principally affected have been pork, eggs, butter and fish. Eggs have been sold in some markets as low as 4d. per dozen, and are being retailed in Belfast at 8d. and 10d. per dozen. Butter has also fallen in price—it was quoted in Dublin yesterday at 157s. for the choicest salt, against 161s. last week. Irish salmon is cheaper, and was sold in the Belfast market yesterday at 1s. 6d. and 1s. 10d. per lb.

The following reports were received yesterday from our correspondents:—

Boyle.—The fair was only attended by three dealers—Messrs. Finlay (Cavan), Donnelly (Dublin) and Healy (Sligo). Only 47 pigs were railed from Boyle Station. Porkers, which were in poor demand, made 100s. per cwt. on an average; store pigs sold at from £5 to £6 10s. each, and bonhams £7 to £8 a pair. Exporters of eggs and fresh water fish at Boyle have ceased purchasing as a result of the strike, and prices have fallen to what would be considered an absurd level a week ago. In rural districts eggs can be bought at 4d. per dozen.

NOTICE TO ARMED FORCES.

The British Government made the following announcement yesterday:—

All ranks of the armed forces of the Crown are hereby informed that any action that they find it necessary to take in an honest endeavour to aid the civil power will receive, both now and afterwards, the full support of His Majesty's Government.

Gorey.—Pigs at Gorey, Co. Wexford, on Friday, fetched 76s. per cwt., live weight, a fall of 5s. per cwt. in a week.

Athlone.—Pigs, live weght, sold at Moate yesterday at 74s., a drop of 3s. on last week.

Tipperary.—At the fat pig market quotation were 73s. per cwt., live weight, a fall of 7s. per cwt. from last week.

Birr.—The strike had a serious all-round effect on the Roscrea Market on Thursday. Pigs fall to 70s., a decrease of 10s. from last week's price. Eggs fell to 6d. per dozen and butter to 1s. 3d. per lb.

Clonmel.—There was no business for export, but a good business for local interests. Although export of salmon has been stopped, and many tons put into cold storage, the price has only dropped from 3s. to 2s. 6d., but fishermen are getting only about 1s. per lb.

Monaghan.—At the Pork Market yesterday 120 per cwt. was paid for pork. There were only 12 pigs in the market, farmers failing to bring in the pork in consequence of the strike.

Waterford.—There is a glut of fish, and salmon for the past two days was offered as low as tenpence per lb., and one local dealer exhibited a notice—"Guaranteed fish; no reasonable offer refused." Eggs—Prices have dropped rapidly, as big quantities were ready for shipment when the strike occurred, and butter has fallen from 2s. to 1s. 5d. per lb.

Cork.—Two trawlers from Daunt's Rock fishing grounds disposed of herrings and mackerel to dealers at 4d. and 6d. a dozen. The Tartar arrived about 8 o'clock with about a ton of fish, and for some time there was a brisk sale for herrings and mackerel. At 10 a.m. the Ben Mychree arrived at the same quay with another ton of fish, and prices dropped, herrings to 4d. and mackerel to 6d. a dozen. A fisherman stated that, owing to supplies of salt from England being held up the usual market with the curers at Kinsale was closed.

IN THE PROVINCES.

MIDLANDS AND THE NORTH.

Grimsby.—It is hoped to run passenger and fish trains to-day.

Manchester.—No work on the shipping canal yesterday, except removal of foodstuffs. Permits granted by the Trades Union Congress Council for removal of food were withdrawn last night.

Hull.—A vessel with a cargo of flour was unloaded yesterday by volunteers.

Preston.—Several cotton mills closed down.

Chester—Trams manned by volunteers running.

Liverpool.—All men are back at work at the electricity power stations. All quiet in the city. Tramway service has never been stopped, and is now running over three hundred cars. Eighteen hundred and sixty men are working on cars, in sheds, and at works. Neither volunteers nor inspecting staff required.

Lancaster.—Corporation tramway men and 'busmen yesterday decided to return to work.

Alfreton.—Some 'buses are again running between Alfreton and Mansfield, with policemen sitting beside the drivers.

Birmingham.—A few more trains were running from Birmingham, but the trams and 'bus services are still cut off.

Wolverhampton.—Quiet yesterday. More men called out in engineering section of the motor industry.

Sheffield.—A further batch of compositors returned to work yesterday afternoon at the offices of the "Sheffield Daily Telegraph" and the "Yorkshire Telegraph and Star."

Bradford.—Proprietors of one Bradford evening paper have intimated that, consequent on the letter from the Typographical Association to the members, threatening the expulsion of members who remain at work, the paper will recruit an entirely new staff unless the employés return to work on Monday.

SOUTH AND WEST.

Southampton.—Most of the printers are at work. The trams and 'buses are giving a better service.

Bristol.—All essential services are being maintained. Many printers are returning to work in Bristol on the ground that the Executive has not acted in accordance with the rules.

MAILS BY DESTROYER TO BELFAST.

MORE WORK IN DUBLIN DOCKS.

JACOB'S FACTORY ON SHORT TIME: DERRY BADLY HIT.

DRASTIC COAL-RATIONING SCHEME ENFORCED IN THE NORTH.

THE arrival of a number of steamers in the Liffey yesterday gave employment to many dockers and carters who had been idle during the earlier days of the week. An outgoing steamer brought away large supplies of cattle, sheep and eggs.

Owing to their inability to export their manufactures, Messrs. Jacob have been obliged to put their 2,800 employés on "short time," but they announce that there is little fear of any of their workers being thrown out of employment owing to a continuance of the strike.

An official statement issued last night announced that there is an ample supply of foodstuffs in Northern Ireland, and that there is no justification for increasing prices to consumers.

In the Londonderry area 2,000 cattle and hundreds of tons of potatoes are held up awaiting shipment. Yesterday more notices terminating their employment were served on workers in Derry City.

FREE STATE.

CONTINENTAL MAILS.

DESPATCHES BY DIRECT SEA ROUTES.

The Free State Department of Posts and Telegraphs announces that letter mails for France, Spain, Portugal, Switzerland, Austria, Italy and other parts of Southern Europe, also Egypt and North Africa, were despatched from Dublin to Dunkirk last evening by Messrs. Michael Murphy's ss. Grania.

A further despatch of letter mails for all European countries, and for Egypt and North Africa, will be made to-day by Messrs. Palgrave Murphy's ss. Dunmore Head, which is due to sail for Antwerp at 2 p.m.

Letter and parcel mails for Canada, and letter mails for Newfoundland, Australia, New Zealand, China and the Far East generally were despatched to Queenstown yesterday for conveyance by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's ss. Melita for Quebec, due at Queenstown at midnight.

Letter and parcel mails for the United States and letter mails for Canada, Mexico, all parts of South America, and West Indies are being despatched from Dublin this evening via Queenstown and New York.

DUBLIN.

EIGHT STEAMERS REACH THE LIFFEY.

EXPORTS OF CATTLE, EGGS AND BACON.

With the arrival of a number of coastal cross-Channel and overseas ships yesterday the port of Dublin for a time during the early morning and afternoon took on a busy appearance.

The Lady Louth, of the British and Irish Steam Packet Company, arrived from Liverpool with a full complement of passengers, but without cargo, save for a number of barrels of Messrs. Watkins' stout, which were not landed at Liverpool on account of the strike.

The Lady Louth left the North Wall, Dublin, last night, on her return trip to Liverpool and Birkenhead. She carried a very large number of passengers for all parts of England. 1,600 head of sheep and lambs and 200 head of cattle were shipped, together with 400 cases of eggs and 4 tons of bacon. There were some English cattle buyers in Dublin again yesterday, and the prices paid were exceptionally good.

Among the passengers that crossed to Liverpool on Thursday were Mr. Kevin O'Higgins, the Minister for Justice; Lord and Lady Powerscourt, Lady Kathleen Pilkington and the Earl of Fitzwilliam. Passengers for any of the big cities of England will now experience little difficulty in getting to their destinations. The services are fairly frequent, but the time taken is much more than under normal conditions.

The British and Irish Company are prepared to take over full shipment of live-stock and dairy produce for Liverpool and Birkenhead in their sailings on the Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of next week; but it is important for the senders in Ireland to have the people on the English side ready to take over the stocks on landing. This is a vital arrangement. If the company think that it is necessary they are prepared to augment these services and take over full cargoes of foodstuffs only; this includes live-stock and dairy produce.

The company have made all arrangements for the shipment of drugs and anæsthetics for the Dublin and Irish hospitals from Liverpool by their boats next week. This is a very important arrangement, as the supply of drugs and anæsthetics in the Irish hospitals would not last for any considerable time.

It is not expected that any of the ships of the company coming from Liverpool will have any cargo, but large numbers of passengers are expected to travel, since Liverpool is now fairly well connected with the different big centres throughout the country.

TRAFFIC ON THE QUAYS.

The docks and quays were very busy yesterday, taking everything into consideration. The reason for this was the arrival of eight steamers from across the Channel, America, and the Continent. Carters and dockers were busy all day unloading them. At times the traffic on the North Wall was very heavy.

The ss. Razzo came from Hamburg, via Cork, with a general cargo, including wines; the s.s. Tioga arrived from Avonmouth with tanks full of oil; the ss. Tanid Head arrived with a cargo of timber, flour and wheat, from St. John's, New Brunswick; the ss. Olive came from Larne with a cargo of cement; the ss. Pandora, from Bangor, with a load of slates; the ss. Lady Louth, from Liverpool, with passengers only. A coal boat was docked at Ringsend Basin with a full cargo for the Dublin United Tramways Company, and the ss. Grania arrived from France with a cargo of cement.

The only vessels to put out of the Liffey, besides the Lady Louth, for Liverpool, were three trawlers which put to sea for the fishing. The number of men unemployed on the docks was not so great as it has been for the last few days. The stoppage of the export trade with England is, however, making itself felt in various ways.

EFFECT OF THE STRIKE.

MESSRS. JACOB AND THEIR EMPLOYES.

The strike is making its effects felt in Ireland in other than the shipping and agricultural circles.

Messrs. W. and R. Jacob and Company, one of the firms that export in a large way to England, have had to take measures to limit their supply while the strike lasts. The staff of 2,800 employés have been put on "short time" for the last two days. The works for manufacturing chocolates, biscuits, etc., are now shut down at 4 o'clock in the afternoon instead of 5.30 o'clock, as in normal times. In all 4,200 normal working hours have been cut off.

In conversation with an Irish Times representative last night, Mr. George N. Jacob said that the reason for this was that their considerable export trade to England had been completely stopped since Monday.

"We are not," he declared, "very much perturbed by this turn of events, as we are sure of making up for what we have lost when our normal trade relations with Great

NORTHERN IRELAND

MAILS TO BELFAST BY DESTROYER.

FOODSTUFFS PLENTIFUL.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Friday.

His Majesty's destroyer Vidette arrived at Belfast to-day from Liverpool with a large consignment of mails. The bags were promptly transferred to waiting vehicles and conveyed to the General Post Office.

The following official statement was issued at Belfast to-night:—

Reports from various centres throughout Northern Ireland indicate that the Coal-Rationing Order, issued yesterday, is being carefully observed, and that with the loyal co-operation of local merchants the rationing system is working smoothly.

The reports also make clear that supplies of foodstuffs within Northern Ireland are ample, and that there is no justification for increased prices to the consumer. Indeed, not only are there adequate supplies, but, in so far as agricultural produce is concerned, there is a substantial surplus available for export. There is, therefore, every reason why the public generally should face any present inconvenience calmly and refrain from embarrassing retailers by making abnormal demands upon their stocks.

SHIPPING SERVICES.

SAILINGS ARRANGED.

A limited shipping service to and from Belfast is being established. The Fleetwood steamer, Duke of Arygle, which left Belfast on Tuesday night and has since been laid up at Fleetwood, sailed from the Lancashire port this morning at six o'clock, carrying passengers and fish, and arrived at Belfast late this afternoon.

On the Liverpool route the ss. Heroic sailed from the Mersey last night and arrived at Belfast early this morning. There were 146 passengers on board, many of whom had been stranded in England by the railway stoppage. They reported a gradual increase in the tram services, but the working of the trains is very slow, making the longer journeys exceedingly tedious. The ss. Heroic will leave Belfast to-night for Liverpool at the usual time.

The Belfast Steamship Company intimate a sailing from Liverpool, and that their services next week will be Monday, Wednesday and Friday from Belfast, and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from Liverpool.

On the Glasgow route the Magpie sailed last night with passengers, but there was no boat from the other side.

SPECIAL LIVE STOCK STEAMERS.

As the result of an interview held to-day between Mr. T. E. McConnell, M.P., managing director of Robson's, Ltd., Belfast, and the manager of the Belfast Steamship Co., the latter have arranged for three special steamers to run from Belfast to Birkenhead next week for the conveyance of live stock. These steamers will run on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

COAL RATIONING.

THE NEW REGULATIONS.

Coal rationing under the Order of the Ministry of Commerce was generally entered upon to-day in the distributing centres. The following are the regulations:—

(1) Domestic Coal—No coal merchant shall deliver more than one-quarter ton of house coal to any consumer in any period of four consecutive weeks, nor shall he deliver (a) to other than a regular customer, or (b) to any consumer who has more than 5 cwt. in stock.

(2) In order to meet additional costs of distribution, coal merchants may, in respect of supplies made direct to consumers, charge 2s. per ton above the present regulated prices, such regulated prices being those in force during the week ended Saturday, 1st May, 1926. The prices chargeable by bellmen shall in no case exceed those in operation for the week ended Saturday, 1st May, 1926.

(3) Coal merchants shall restrict supplies to dealers to 50 per cent. of the normal requirements of the latter.

(4) The maximum amount which any dealer or bellman may supply to any household shall be one bag (10st.) per week. No supply shall be made by such dealer or bellman (a) to other than a regular customer or (b) to any householder having in stock more than 5 cwt.

(5) Industrial Coal—All sales of industrial coal shall be restricted to (a) requirements for immediate consumption only; and (b) 50 per cent. of the normal requirements, provided that an exception shall be made in the case of supplies to hospitals, bakeries, yeast producers, and other establishments producing commodities for the maintenance of food supplies.

(6) Merchants and dealers delivering coal outside the city of Belfast or outside the aera of any Urban District Council shall, as far as practicable, arrange deliveries so that vehicles, while carrying a full load, will not be utilised for the delivery of supplies to any individual household in excess of the maximum quantity obtainable by a householder in the city of Belfast or in the area of an Urban District Council.

(7) It shall be incumbent upon every coal merchant to forward to the County Controller appointed under the Emergency Organisation Scheme of the Government of Northern Ireland, or his nominee, a return showing approximate stocks of coal on hand on the night of Thursday, 6th May, 1926, distinguishing therein quantities of domestic coal and quantities of industrial coal. Thereafter it shall be incumbent upon every coal merchant to forward each morning to the Controller, or his nominee, until further notice, a statement showing (a) the total sales of domestic coal, and (b) the total sales of industrial coal during the preceding day, and also a list showing the names and addresses of purchasers resident outside the boundary of the City of Belfast or Urban District Council area, together with quantities supplied to such purchasers during the preceding day.

(8) This Order shall apply to the whole of Northern Ireland, exclusive of the County Borough of Londonderry.

A separate Order has been issued in respect of Londonderry.

TRADE UNIONISTS MEET.

TRANSPORT SERVICES.

Mr. J. Freeland presided at to-day's meeting of the Negotiating Committee of the Northern Ireland Unions affiliated to the Trade Union Congress. Additional representatives present were delegates from the Belfast Trades Council and the National Union of Sailors and Firemen.

Communications were received from the General Council giving full details of the situation as it prevails in Britain, and a full memorandum as to the policy to be pursued by districts.

With regard to transport, the local committee has been empowered to deal with the release of foodstuffs, the maintenance of transport, sanitary and health services, and the general conduct of the membership involved.

The communication also sets forth that, in view of all the circumstances, the General Council had not felt called upon to request action by trade unionists in Northern Ireland, as direct contact with the Northern Ireland Committee has been effected. Members are to hold themselves in readiness to receive instructions from the duly accredited local body.

The Committee had under consideration the position of areas outside Belfast, and it was decided to request the various local Trades Councils to immediately set up Local Committees for the purpose of receiving instruction, and to act co-ordinately with the Belfast Central Committee.

It has also been recommended that local branches of trades unions represented should request their members to consider the advisability of early financial assistance by whatever means at their disposal for the miners "in this struggle, which is regarded as a common resistance to depredations on our standard of life."

INSTRUCTION TO STRIKE COMMITTEES.

Mr. Robert McCurdy, Divisional Organiser of the Union, received this afternoon the following telegram from Mr. Charles Duncan, M.P., General Secretary of the Organisation General Council:—

"Trades Union Congress has advised local strike committees to meet employers immediately, and offer to supply light and power for such services as house, street and shop lighting, social services, power for food, bakeries, laundries and domestic purposes, and has issued instructions that local undertakings be approached, and their replies reported immediately. This instruction does not apply, of course, to Ireland, where the strike is not effective, as yet."

This telegram is regarded in Belfast Labour circles as a hopeful indication that negotiations are about to be resumed.

LONDONDERRY.

UNEMPLOYMENT NOTICES.

2,000 CATTLE HELD UP.

The first letters from England since the strike began reached Londonderry this evening, and will be delivered to-morrow. Many additional notices terminating their employment were served on workers to-day, including permanent dockers engaged in cross-Channel services. No steamers have yet arrived, but a sailing for Liverpool is expected to-morrow. A flour laden vessel from America is due in ten days, and the hope is entertained that the existing flour supply will be made to last until then. In the absence of cross-Channel services the supply of bakers' flour is running low. The difficulty in connection with the yeast supply has been got over. The coke supply to bakers is being well maintained.

The various control offices were busy centres to-day, the staffs being constantly engaged issuing permits for coal, flour, and sugar. Only in the case of coal are citizens directly affected, permits for flour and sugar being confined to retailers desiring stocks from wholesalers. Over a thousand coal permits have been issued. Two coal yards have closed, their stocks having been exhausted on the eve of control. Efforts are being made to secure the release of a steamer laden for Londonderry at an English port.

Deputy Controller Mr. McFarland stated to-day that it was hoped they would avoid the necessity for issuing permits to the public for sugar and flour, but it is not concealed that the sugar supply is very low, merchants having held back orders in the hope that the Imperial Budget would show a reduction in duty. The restrictions are being accepted cheerfully.

Farmers throughout the North-West are severely hit owing to the cessation of shipping. Two thousand head of cattle, many thousand tons of potatoes, and thousands of dozens eggs are being held up.

THE REAL SUFFERERS.

LORD OXFORD'S MESSAGE.

The British Gazette publishes a message from Lord Oxford and Asquith to the Nation, in which he says:—There could be no greater misunderstanding of the attitude of our people at this moment than to suppose that it implies any hostility to the right of combination in industry. . . . A general strike, such as that which it is being sought to enforce, is directly aimed at the daily life of the whole community. The people who suffer the least from it are the capitalists and the plutocrats. . . .

After pointing out that the real victims of a general strike are the common people, Lord Oxford says:—We should have lost all sense of self-respect if we were to allow any section of the community, at its own will, and for whatever motives, to bring to a standstill the industrial and social life of the whole nation. It would be to acquiesce in the substitution, for free government, of a dictatorship. This the British people will never do. We desire, at the earliest moment, the resumption of negotiations to bring peace and reconstruction to our coalfields. But the anti-social weapon, which has been so unadvisedly drawn, must first be sheathed.

STRIKE ITEMS.

The cruise of the liner Arcadia to the Canary Islands and Morocco, to have started to-day, has been postponed.

Isabel Brown, a certificated teacher, who gave her last address at Moscow, was sentenced at Pontefract for a seditious speech at Castleford.

The Council of the Royal Society of Arts are postponing the examinations which were to have begun in London next Monday. Examinations in the provinces will take place as originally arranged.

The fitting out of the King's yacht, Brittania, has been completed at Cowes, but the testing of the new gear has been postponed until the industrial situation is improved.

PROTEST AGAINST WAGE "CUTS."

At a meeting of the Limerick Corporation on Thursday night it was decided by a majority of two not to strike an improvement rate of 10s. 6d., with the result that at the moment there is no rate collector, although the financial year began on the 1st April.

The improvement rate, which had been reduced in Committee, was to effect a "cut" in salaries and wages, and when the Corporation assembled on Thursday night a deputation attended from the City Trades and Labour Council and protested against any reductions in workers' wages.

After some discussion, during which it was suggested by a Progressive member that the only solution of the difficulty was to apply for a Commissioner. All the Progressive members left the Chamber, and the proceedings terminated abruptly.

STRIKE AFFECTS PARLIAMENT.

THE SPEAKER'S STATEMENT.

"HOLDING UP" FOOD AND TRANSPORT.

From Our Parliamentary Correspondent.

WESTMINSTER, Friday.

The Government having appropriated all private members' time until Whitsuntide, to-day was utilised for the progress of a number of Government measures of a more or less uncontroversial character. There was a very sparse attendance of members when the Speaker took the chair at 11 o'clock, but members drifted in in greater numbers during the afternoon, perhaps in a spirit of curiosity. They certainly displayed little interest in the business under discussion, and rapid progress was made. The Marquis of Reading, in the Press Gallery, listened to the debate.

The Speaker, at the outset, read a letter from the Bow street magistrate announcing that Mr. Saklatvala, M.P., had been committed to prison for using seditious language. Mr. David Kirkwood inquired whether there was no way in which members could be protected, having regard to the fact that in this instance Mr. Saklatvala was really "a stranger within our gates." The Speaker pointed out that a member of the House was in exactly the same position as an ordinary citizen with regard to the criminal law, and "the privilege of a member would not cover any breach of that law."

The Local Authorities (Emergency Provisions) Bill was read a third time without discussion, but there was some little talk on the next bill, which proposed to raise the status of the Secretary for Scotland to that of a Secretary of State. There was a mild protest from Commander Bellairs against any increase in the number of Secretaries of State. He considered that the present number was excessive, and gave it as his own opinion that if the negotiations in connection with the industrial dispute had been in fewer hands we should not have found ourselves in the present deplorable position.

Mr. Kennedy, speaking for the Labour Party, suggested that in the present situation it would be better to pass the bills without prolonged debate, with the reservation that in happier circumstances opportunity would be given for full discussion. The bill was read a second time, as were also the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Bill, the Land Drainage Bill, and the Execution of Diligence (Scotland) Bill.

THE SPEAKER'S DETERMINATION.

On the motion for the adjournment, the Speaker, replying to Colonel Gretton, said that it was a fact that a number of men engaged in the principal services of the House had been withdrawn, but he did not propose to allow any interference with the work of the House, and he was prepared to carry on without printing or electric light.

Mr. Lansbury declared that whatever inconvenience was caused was due to the contemptuous manner in which the Government had "turned down" the conciliatory offer that the strike should not apply to the essential services.

There was a somewhat stormy scene when Sir Arthur Holbrook asserted that the strikers were "holding up" food and transport in every direction. Mr. Jack Jones, Mr. Kirkwood and Mr. Johnston shouted to the hon. member to withdraw what they declared was an absolute lie. Mr. Kirkwood said that he did not care a damn whether he was suspended or not, but "that lie had got to be withdrawn."

Sir Arthur Holbrook was willing to withdraw if he had said anything offensive, but he would say that working men were sick and tired of these strikes. Dr. Baden Guest declared that the disturbances were caused by sheer hooligans, the products of the appalling slums, and not by either Communists or Trade Unionists.

Mr. Jack Jones said that they were prepared to fight the matter out, whatever the consequences. They had plenty of reserves yet to call out.

The House adjourned at 4 o'clock.

LUCAN TRAMWAY SERVICE.

DEMAND FOR ITS RESTORATION.

At a public meeting held in the Dolphin Hotel, Dublin, last night a deputation was appointed to await on the Dublin Tramway Company with a view to having a private bill promoted in connection with the restoration of the Lucan tramway service.

Dr. Lorcan Sherlock, who presided, explaining the position, said that the Dublin Commissioners, the Dublin County Council, and the Blackrock Urban Council agreed to come to terms with the Tramway Company, but Pembroke, Rathmines, Kingstown, and Dalkey Urban Councils did not agree. Rathmines got £15,780 a year payment for roads, etc., from the Tramway Company, Pembroke got £11,200, Kingstown got £3,300, and Dalkey got £1,200. There was development in every direction around Dublin except towards Lucan, and an overwhelming and scandalous charge was put on local ratepayers in an effort to maintain the roads to Lucan.

PRESIDENT COSGRAVE'S HELP.

In the interchange of views that had taken place between the Tramway Company and the Commissioners and between the Tramway Company and outside bodies President Cosgrave had played more than a man's part, and the whole idea would have been wrecked upon the rocks of bigoted opposition only for the energy, tact, and public spirit shown by President Cosgrave in this transaction. (Hear, hear.) He thought that the time had come to ask the Dublin Tramway Company to get a private bill passed through the Dail and to get the lease extended for thirteen years in the districts that had approved of it. If they could get the Dublin Tramway Company to lodge their bill he thought that there would be very little difficulty in getting the necessary Parliamentary authorisation for the Tramway Company to get the extension of the lease and to go on with this matter.

Surgeon McArdle moved: "That a deputation be sent to the Tramways Co. with a view to having the bill promoted." He said that he knew tramways in nearly all the countries where they had developed, and he thought the Dublin system was the best in the world. It was an asset to the city and to its development, and he thought it was very unreasonable of people to try and oppose this project.

LOOKING AHEAD.

Senator James Moran, in seconding, said that he did not think the Dublin Tramways Co. need bother about the townships, because in a much shorter time than 13 years they would have a greater Dublin and these townships would probably cease to function.

The High Sheriff (Mr. Hubbard Clark) said that this was a golden opportunity for the townships to take advantage of extending the lease.

Mr. W. J. Larkin said that they of the unemployed would insist that this project, which was going to give employment, would go through.

Mr. P. J. Murphy, Mr. O'Hanlon and Mr. P. Belton having supported the resolution, the motion was passed, and the following deputation was appointed to wait on the Tramways Company:—Surgeon McArdle, Senator Moran, the Rev. Father Trainor, the Rev. Mr. Gailey, the Rev. Mr. Boyd, the Rev. Mr. Gillman, Dr. Keane, Dr. Harrison, the High Sheriff, and Messrs. J. McDermott, C. Cregan, F. Warren, M. Rice, P. O'Maille, T.D., and the Chairman.

INCREASE OF RENT BILL.

EXISTING MEASURE AMENDED.

THE STANDARD RENT ADDITIONS.

The Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (Restrictions) Bill, which was introduced in the Dail during the present week, amends in certain important respects the Act with the same title which was passed in 1919.

Section 3 of the 1919 Act fixes £60 in the Dublin Metropolitan Police area, and £40 elsewhere, as the rental or valuation of a dwelling-house to which the statute applies. The new bill amends that section, and fixes June 24th, 1927, as the limit of the operation of the measure, for houses of the rental or valuation of £52 in the Dublin area and £35 elsewhere. Where the rentals are £40 and £30 respectively the Act will apply until June 24th, 1928, and where they are £30 and £25 until June 24th, 1929. The cheaper the house, the longer the restrictions will remain.

THE REPAIR PERIOD.

ADDITIONS TO STANDARD RENT.

In section 5 the period of the two years 1925 and 1926 is substituted for that of 1923 and 1924 as the "repair period." The addition to the standard rent, over and above that provided for in the clauses dealing with repairs, in the 1923 Act not to exceed 10 per cent. In the amending bill that is raised to 20 per cent.

Sub-sections of Section 6 set out that a landlord is not entitled to recover from a tenant any sums which may have been recovered from the landlord before May 4th, 1926, by means of deduction from rent or otherwise, or any rent which has not been paid by reason of such deductions having been made therefrom. But the section shall not affect the right to enforce any judgment of a Court of competent jurisdiction given before May 4th, 1926.

Section 7 deals with the effect of statutory notices served under the Act of 1923 or the British Act of 1920, which could not become effective without the addition of a notice to quit. The new bill provides that, where no valid notice to quit was so served on a tenant, the statutory notice served on that tenant shall have effect as if there had also been a notice to quit.

Section 8 deals with rules of procedure. Section 9 provides that nothing in the Act of 1923 shall, from and after May 4th, 1926, render recoverable by a tenant which in the case of premises used for business, trade or professional purposes, were irrecoverable prior to the Act of 1923. That Act, with the amendments of the present bill, will expire on June 24th, 1929.

FREE STATE AND THE STRIKE.

Britain are resumed, as we hope they will be, within at least a fortnight from now."

Mr. Jacob was of the opinion that they will be able to send across their goods even before that time. Biscuits rank as a food, and in this regard there is the statement of the Trades Union Congress. The firm is awaiting orders from England, when they will make their shipments as usual.

There was no fear, he emphasised, that they would close down their factory or that any of their employés would be thrown out of employment, even if the strike is to last for a considerable time. They had their Irish orders, which would serve to keep their factories going at half-time. At present they were continuing to manufacture for their English market, and the stock was accumulating in their store-rooms.

The consumption of biscuits will continue, strike or no strike. The situation, he concluded, was not so bad for them, and this was not the first time they had worked on short time; whenever trade was "flat" their employés were put on short time.

CORK.

FORD WORKS ON FULL TIME.

The factory of Messrs. Ford and Son is at the moment working as usual, and it is hoped that supplies of raw material will not be seriously impeded. A specially chartered steamer succeeded in bringing manufactured parts from Cork to England on Thursday, and arrangements have been made to ensure that she will be unloaded and reloaded with a return cargo of materials required in the Cork factory. By these means both the Cork and the English factories will be able to carry on. It remains to be seen whether the firm will be able to manage in the event of a long drawn out strike.

The absence of mail facilities is a handicap. But it is being partly overcome by the use of telephonic communication.

WATERFORD.

SCARCITY OF SUGAR FEARED.

It is feared if the strike lasts over next week there will be a scarcity of sugar. A general discussion on rumoured advances in the price of commodities took place at the Waterford Corporation meeting, and the Mayor said that he waited on the coal merchants, and was assured that prices would not be raised while the present stocks lasted. Any attempt to inflate the prices of foodstuffs in Waterford, he said, would be dealt with by the Corporation immediately.

The Clyde Shipping Company announce that the crews of the idle steamers will be paid this week. A special sailing to Liverpool by the company is arranged for Tuesday next to carry passengers, foodstuffs, and livestock only.

LIMERICK.

INCREASE IN COAL PRICES.

It was stated at a meeting of the Borough Council last night by the Mayor that there are about four months' supply of coal at the gas works. A councillor said that there should be some protest against the increase in the price of coal by some city merchants, but the matter was not further discussed.

MAN FOUND SHOT IN DUBLIN.

WOUND IN FOREHEAD.

Patrick Connelly, aged about 26 years, of 16 St. Augustine street, Dublin, was found at the rear of a tenement house in Meath street, Dublin, about ten o'clock last night, with a bullet wound in his head. Near by lay a revolver. When taken to the Meath Hospital the man was found to be dead.

An inquest will be held to-day.

THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

GREAT SOUTHERN RAILWAYS ARRANGEMENTS.

Many cheap excursion arrangements are contained in this season's tourist programme (embracing 56 pages) of the Great Southern Railways Company. Motor coach drives are supplemented, and tourist and 15-day tickets are now arranged with Glengariff and Dungarvan. Of circular tours, perhaps the most outstanding is the Achill, Connemara, Killarney, and Wicklow tour, embracing a rail trip of about 1,000 miles and a motor-coach tour of about 150 miles, at the cost of £5 5s. 3rd class.

Other attractive arrangements are a day trip to Glendalough, including rail to Rathdrum and motor to Glendalough, at a cost of 7s. 6d. 3rd class, and a similar tour, taking in a motor drive of 40 miles through the beauty spots of County Wicklow, at a cost of 12s. 3rd class.

FREE STATE ARMY VOTE DEBATED IN THE DAIL.

VALUE OF MILITARY BANDS.

THE COST OF THE MEDICAL SERVICE.

At yesterday's sitting of the Dail the debate was concluded on Deputy Heffernan's amendment to reduce the vote of £2,475,470 for the Army for the year by £1,300,000. This and other amendments to the vote were defeated.

During a discussion on the expenditure on the Army School of Music the Minister of Defence expressed the view that the Army Band had done more than any other service to bring the country back to a normal condition.

Major Cooper sought to reduce by 10 per cent. the estimate of £42,958 for the pay of officers of the Army Medical Service, and said that the proposal to have one doctor for every 176 men in the Army was an abnormal proportion. Including doctors, nurses and all medical staffs, they would have one for every 30 men this year, while on April 1st last the nursing staffs in the two military hospitals provided one nurse for every four and a quarter patients.

The Minister for Defence, while announcing that they did not intend to employ any more medical officers, was of opinion that no case had been made out for a reduction in their numbers.

THE SIZE OF THE ARMY.

COST PER HEAD OF THE POPULATION.

Mr. M. Heffernan, replying to the debate on his amendment, said that the President had stated that he did not fear an outbreak of civil strife. That being the case, he had come to the conclusion that the only reason for a standing army of the present size was defence against possible attack from outside. He had made comparisons and found that the army in the Free State was greatly in excess of the army in any of the Dominions. The population of Canada at the last census was 8,788,000, and the total standing army was 3,500, the total militia and reserve being 123,473. The total cost of the defence force was £2,339,423. The cost per head of the population for the army was 5s. 4d. In the Free State it was 16s. per head. In Australia it was 7s. per head of the population.

The amendment was then put and was defeated by 16 votes to 36. The voting was:—

For—Deputies Baxter, Butler, J. Conlan, C. Hogan, Johnson, McKenna, Wilson, Mulvany, Nagle, M. Doyle, Gorey, Heffernan, Vaughan, P. Hogan (Clare), P. Hogan (Limerick), Wall.

Against—Deputies Blythe, Bolger, Wolfe, Burke, Craig, M. Egan, P. J. Egan, Fitzgerald, Hall, T. Hennessy, Hennigan, President Cosgrave, McFadden, McGilligan, Nicholls, Sears, Nally, Nolan, Norton, Hughes, M. Hennessy, Broderick, O'Connor, M. Conlon, Colohan, O'Doherty, Dolan, E. Doyle, P. Doyle, Duggan, Lyons, Lynch, T. Murphy, Reddy, O'Sullivan, Thrift.

REDUCED PAY.

Major Cooper proposed an amendment to reduce the estimate for the pay of officers and men by £7,745. This, he said, was a 10 per cent. "cut" of the amount set down for additional pay for soldier tradesmen. One out of every five of the rank and file was drawing extra pay for doing tradesman's work, while £86,000 was paid for work done by civilians attached to units.

The Minister for Defence replied that it was found necessary to have soldier tradesmen in every army. They did work which could not be satisfactorily done by civilians at the times required. The amount set down was not excessive for the service, although in a bigger establishment than theirs the percentage of the whole force might not be so large.

The amendment was rejected by 36 to 23.

THE ARMY SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

Mr. Johnson raised a question on the estimate for the pay of officers, and said that it was important to have from the Minister a statement with regard to the position that it was intended that officers should occupy. Taking the general Army, apart from the special services, there was from last year a reduction of five in the total number of officers, but there was a considerable increase in the pay roll. One Lieutenant-General last year was in receipt of £1,000 salary, while the present estimate provided for £1,150. The salaries of seven Major-Generals last year amounted to £5,600; this year it was £6,150. Taking the total, there was an increase of about £9,000. Last year's estimate indicated that there were five officers receiving extra pay of 5s. a day. The present estimate did not give the number in receipt of extra pay nor the rate per day.

With regard to the Army School of Music, he wanted to raise a general question as to the policy of the Army in respect to the School of Music. On analysis he concluded that it was costing £25,000 to £30,000 a year, and he was very doubtful if they could justify that expenditure. On the face of the estimate it appeared as £8,100, but they had to add to that the cost of the men in the bands. Estimating that there was a normal proportion of married men getting lodging allowance and equipment, they had to average it at, say, £52 per annum in addition to their ordinary pay. He thought that the amount of Army service done by bandsmen was trifling, and that the Army as a military force would not be weakened if it had not these 190 or 200 men. There were five bands; last year it required six officers to control, instruct, and direct these bands. The Colonel Director of Music had £623; the Captain Instruction Officer had £300. They had this year a Colonel Director of Music at £548, plus additional pay. They had a Commandant Instruction Officer who last year got £300; this year he had £365, plus additional pay. They had last year a Captain-Adjutant at 16s. a day, two lieutenants at 15s. and one at 10s. a day; and this year, instead of a Captain-Adjutant and three lieutenants, they had only two second lieutenants at 8s. a day and additional pay.

THE MINISTRY'S POLICY.

He did not know, but he assumed that the additional pay for officers in control of the School of Music was 5s. per day, and that it applied to the four officers stated there. If that was the case they had to add £91 5s. per year each, which gave the Colonel-Conductor a salary of £639 5s. this year as compared with £563 last year; and the Commandant Instruction Officer would have £456, as compared with £300 last year. One was in a difficulty to understand why it should require six officers and directors a year ago to deal with these bands and that four men were doing it this year. Was that an indication of a change in policy?

He was not to be taken as minimising the value of military music or instrumental music, whether in the Army or outside the Army; but he hesitated to believe that the Government proposed to inculcate love of music and to increase the standard of music for the country as a whole by means of an Army vote. He thought that the instruction of the people in music in the country would be far more valuable by wireless than through the Army School of Music. The five bands were costing between £5,000 and £6,000 a year, and he thought that the Dail was entitled to know the policy of the Minister in respect to the Army bands—whether it was intended through the Army bands to raise the musical education of the people as a whole. If it was, then he said that this sum ought not to come into the Army vote.

VALUE OF ARMY BANDS.

Major Cooper said that he believed that the Army bands were of value to the Army as a whole. He referred to his own experience in the British Army as to the value of bands, and he differed from the statement made that wireless had done more than the Army bands. There had been some very good music over the wireless and some very bad.

The Minister for Posts and Telegraphs—More good than bad.

Major Cooper replied that he had never heard the Army band play badly. He pointed out that the amount spent on the Army bands was not all loss, and said that there was an appropriation of £1,000 for receipts from Army band performances, which he thought was an underestimate. He did not think that a better day's work for Ireland had ever been done than when Deputy Mulcahy induced Colonel Brase to come here. (Hear, hear.) He thought that bands should be stationed in the more important provincial towns, and believed that they would return in receipts half the cost from performances.

PROMOTION IN THE ARMY.

Speaking of the present position of Army officers, he said that it was not a good thing that their officers should have no prospects of promotion. Most of the officers had been appointed four years ago, and were still serving in the same ranks that they held then. He asked were the seven Major-Generals to go on for ever circulating about the Chief of Staff like the moons round Jupiter. Such a state of things gave no opportunity to anyone below, no matter how efficient they might be. Were the 27 Colonels to be Colonels to the end of their days, and the Majors to remain Majors?

He would like to see provision made for an influx of young officers to the National Army. The Army might provide a career for young men who wished to be soldiers, and the schoolmaster and parent should know the conditions of entrance to the Army. If it was through the ranks that should be made known, though he thought that system would cut out a rather valuable type of aspirant.

Mr. Daly said that he was altogether in favour of bands. He wished that it would travel down south more often.

The Minister for Defence said that the Army Band had done more than any other service had or could do to bring the country back to a normal condition. It was a service that could not be estimated now, but which would be appreciated in years to come. In his office there were applications from all quarters and from people of every shade of opinion in the country for the services of the band. He had not heard any complaints on the head of this expenditure, and thought that in any army, no matter how small, music should be provided. The Army bands would not be kept in Dublin. It was intended to station one of the bands in Cork and one in the Curragh, and the No. 1 Band would be stationed in Dublin.

His intention was to give a band to each command. The bands were serving a very useful purpose, and were well worth the money expended on them. Mr. Johnson had raised a question as to the appointment of an Assistant Chief of Staff. That appointment was only a temporary one.

GUARDS AT LEINSTER HOUSE.

Mr. Johnson protested against the use of military as guards at Leinster House, challenging, by inference, the deputies coming in to the Parliament Buildings. He thought that the Dail, as a civil institution, should be detached from all appearances of military oversight. It was desirable that the incomings and outgoings of people having business in Leinster House should be regulated by the civic guards.

President Cosgrave said that it was customary in other countries to have military guards at Parliament Buildings.

The matter dropped and the vote for Army pay was passed unchallenged by a division.

THE ARMY MEDICAL SERVICE.

Major Cooper moved a reduction of 10 per cent. in the estimate of £42,958 for the pay of officers of the Army Medical Service.

He said that the number of Army doctors had been reduced from 72 to 71, as between the years 1925-26 and 1926-27, while the strength of the Army had been reduced by about 4,000 men. Last year there was one doctor for 230 men; this year's proposal was one for every 176. That was an unusual and abnormal proportion. Including doctors, nurses and all the medical staff, they had one for every 35 men last year, and one for every 30 men this year. In the British Army, with stations all over the globe the proportion was one for every 40. On April 1st last the nursing staff in the two hospitals provided one nurse for every four and a quarter patients. He said that at a low computation the Army Medical Service cost £4 per soldier per year, while the same service for the Garda Siochana was about one-third that amount.

HOSPITAL COSTS.

Sir James Craig, in supporting the amendment, said that his criticisms were not directed against the efficiency of the Army medical officers. He had no fault to find with the efficiency of the service, nor with the rates of pay of the officers. His objection was that there were too many employed to do the work of the service. There are 256 beds available in St. Bricin's Hospital, of which the average number occupied during the year was 109. At the Curragh the average number of the 236 beds occupied was 143. Out of a total of 492 beds available in the military hospitals there were only 252 occupied, on the average, during the year. Nearly half the beds were empty. In St. Bricin's the cost per bed was 12s. 9d. a day, or £232 a year. In the Curragh Hospital the figures were 9s. 6d. per day, or £173 a year. If the 109 patients treated at St. Bricin's had been treated at the Curragh, where there were beds available for all of them, there would have been a saving of £6,400.

It was not fair to make a comparison between the military hospitals and the civilian hospitals in Dublin, because the doctors attending the latter were not paid. Still, it was of interest to know that the cost in Steevens's Hospital was £2 6s. 6d. per bed per week, and the cost in St. Bricin's £4 9s. per bed per week. He stated often before, and would repeat it, that the cost of hospitals under State or municipal control was practically double that of hospitals run by a voluntary committee of people interested in that sort of work. The number of medical officers employed for the number of beds occupied in the military hospitals was extraordinarily extravagant. Ten medical men should be capable of looking after all the beds. In civilian hospitals one doctor thought nothing of the charge of 30 beds. Making all allowances for medical officers employed on pensioners' investigation work and attending on out-patients, the whole medical work of the Army should be done by 30 men instead of 71. He had no fault to find with the Curragh Hospital, which was run at a reasonable rate, and situated in healthy surroundings; but St. Bricin's should be closed up.

Mr. Colohan said that he had had several complaints that patients were not getting proper food or proper medical attention.

BRITISH SERVICE PAYMENTS.

Dr. Hennessy said that there was no reason why the Irish soldier should not be entitled to as competent a medical doctor as the British soldier. The British Medical Director was paid £7 a day. The holder of the equivalent position in the Saorstat got £3 19s. a day. The British Deputy-General was paid £5, and here £2 14s. The rates in the next rank were, respectively, £3 14s. 6d. and £2 2s. Officers in the British Army had also liberal allowances. In the Irish Army the medical officer got nothing of that kind, and was only appointed from six months to six months, and, if he left the Army, voluntarily or compulsorily, received no compensation.

NO CASE FOR REDUCTION.

The Minister for Defence said that the number of medical officers actually employed in the Army was 71. It was not possible, in his opinion to send pensioners into private hospitals in Dublin, owing to the records which had to be kept. Anyone who examined the matter would come to the opinion that St. Bricin's Hospital had done far more service than the general public knew. He did not see that it would be possible to dispense with any of the Army medical officers. They did not intend to employ any more. Certainly, no case for a reduction had been made out.

On a division, the amendment was defeated by 31 votes to 14.

The Farmers' Party did not vote.

The Minister for Local Government and Public Health (Mr. Burke) got permission to introduce the Local Authorities (Officers and Employés) Bill, 1926.

It is a bill entitled an Act to establish a commission, charged with the duty of selecting the persons to be appointed to situations in the employment of local authorities, and to make other provisions for ensuring the appointment of suitable persons to such situations, and also to make better provision for controlling the duties, suspension, removal, and other conditions of service of persons holding such situations. The second stage was fixed for next Friday. The report stage of the Court Officers Bill, 1925, was put down for Friday.

FIRST MAIL BOAT.

after the train had been run through, the guard got out and closed them again.

The streets of Holyhead were for the most part unlighted, and the L.M.S. Hotel was lighted solely by candles.

QUICK WORK IN LOADING BOAT.

CLEARED IN 33 MINUTES AT HOLYHEAD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HOLYHEAD, Friday Night.

The position here remains substantially the same as on the first day of the strike, with the exception of that the first train since Tuesday arrived here to-day at 12.45 p.m. and returned to Chester shortly after one o'clock. Several mass meetings have been held, and the men are conducting themselves in a very exemplary manner.

Some excitement was caused when it became known that the L.M.S.R. intended to run a mail boat to Kingstown. The train left Euston promptly to schedule, 9.30 a.m., and arrived here at 7.45 to-night.

There was an abnormal number of letter mails and about 150 first class and forty other passengers.

The usual time allowed for the transfer to the steamer is twenty-five minutes for the day boat and thirty minutes for the night boat. To-night the transfer was effected in thirty-three minutes.

The steamer, the Hibernia, with Captain Tanner in command, left for Ireland at 7.38 p.m. Among the passengers were the Most Rev. Dr. Bernard, Provost of Trinity College, Dublin; Dr. Murphy, of the Irish Independent, and nine members of Trinity College Swimming Club, who had arrived here on Tuesday, intending to proceed to Cambridge and London, but were held up owing to the absence of trains.

LUNCHEON CAR RUN.

Captain Bernard Daly, when I questioned him as to his impressions of the journey from London, said that before leaving Euston this morning he had an interesting talk with Mr. Burgess, the general manager of the railway company, who seemed to be as cool as the proverbial cucumber. "Mr. Burgess informed me that, so far as they were concerned, everything was going well. There would, he said, be a train leaving Holyhead for Euston after the arrival of the steamer from Kingstown to-morrow morning.

"We had a very comfortable journey from London, and were pleased to find that we were able to have a good luncheon. A collection was made for the engine-driver which realised £12. Our guard was an old official of the railway company who had been superannuated ten years ago."

EARLY ARRIVALS.

Another first class passenger gave me the following statement:—"The organisation of the passenger traffic is wonderful, and is increasing in efficiency every day. Passengers for the train began to arrive at Euston Station as early as 7.45 a.m. The train was very crowded up to Crewe, their being eight people in carriages meant to seat four. All the corridors were crowded, but, nevertheless, there was a dining car. After leaving Crewe the congestion became very much less, and we were able to make the remainder of the journey in greater comfort.

"In London everything is quiet, though there were riots in some districts. People were taking the strike very cheerfully, and seemed determined to make the best of things."

LIGHTING RESTRICTIONS.

The local authority here have issued an order to the effect that from Sunday the electric current will be cut off from 1 a.m. to 7 a.m. daily. The gas pressure will be reduced from Monday next during certain prescribed hours.

In the early hours of yesterday morning a destroyer arrived in the harbour and landed a number of naval ratings and marines for protection purposes, should an emergency arise.

OMNIBUSES IN CORK.

NEW SERVICE TO BE ESTABLISHED.

Arrangements have been completed and licences issued by the City Commissioner for an omnibus service in Cork. The promoter of the scheme, Mr. A. P. Morgan, of Harpenden, near London, has completed all details, and five 'buses will be at work in the city at an early date. It was hoped to have the cars running this week, but the despatch to Cork was delayed owing to the strike.

The type of car to be used is the Daimler double-deck 'bus, having accommodation for forty-four passengers. The cars cost approximately £1,500 each, and will be liable to tax under the Free State Budget of £88 each per year.

At present it is intended to serve parts of the city and suburbs not touched by any other service, and they will run to a regular time-table. The staff employed will be all Corkmen.

Mr. Morgan, who is an ex-Army officer, having served during the great war as captain in the 7th Somerset Light Infantry.

CRUELTY TO COWS.

SHOCKING CASE IN CO. SLIGO.

For cruelty to two cows in his charge, Edward G. Boles, Knocknacoppal, Co. Sligo, was fined £3 at Ballyfarnan District Court.

A sergeant of the Civic Guard stated that he found one of the cows tied to a stake near a heap of manure, in which apparently it had lain. The flesh on the hips was decayed and rotting, and the udder was badly swollen. With difficulty the witness, and a man who went to his assistance, succeeded in getting three pints of muddy-coloured milk from the cow. Another cow was standing outside the cowhouse, and both cows appeared to be suffering from hunger.

For beating a cow Denis Molloy, Charlestown, was fined 20s. and a farmer named Healy 5s.

U.S. MARKETS.

MANY DECLINES DUE TO STRIKE.

(Reuter's Telegrams.)

NEW YORK, Friday.

Stocks opened irregular, and the resumption of bear selling of Motor and Rubber issues caused nine new low "records" for the year to be recorded in these stocks, and ten more minimums in other industrials. Bear operators, perceiving the unwillingness of bulls to buy, pending the outcome of the British strike, and the apathy of public interest in the market, seized the opportunity to attack shares where inside support was evidently lacking. Dupont and General Electric declined 5¼, National Distillers Products Preferred 5, Mack Trucks 4, and U.S. Rubber, Woolworth, General Motors, American Woollen Preferred, U.S. Cast Iron Pipe, Jordan Motors, International Telephone, Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron, Allied Chemical and Barnet Leather 3 to 4 points. Texas and Pacific Land Trust, however, jumped 90 points, but reacted to 50. The market closed weak. Government Bonds irregular; Railroad Bonds irregular. The day's sales totalled 10,000 shares.

U.S. MARKETS.

MANY DECLINES DUE TO STRIKE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Friday.

Stocks opened irregular, and the resumption of bear selling of Motor and Rubber issues caused nine new low "records" for the year to be recorded in these stocks, and ten more minimums in other industrials. Bear operators, perceiving the unwillingness of bulls to buy, pending the outcome of the British strike, and the apathy of public interest in the market, seized the opportunity to attack shares where inside support was evidently lacking. Dupont and General Electric declined 5½, National Distillers Products Preferred 5, Mack Trucks 4, and U.S. Rubber, Woolworth, General Motors, American Woollen Preferred, U.S. Cast Iron Pipe, Jordan Motors, International Telephone, Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron, Allied Chemical and Barnet Leather 3 to 4 points. Texas and Pacific Land Trust, however, jumped 90 points, but reacted to 50. The market closed weak. Government Bonds irregular; Railroad Bonds irregular. The day's sales totalled 10,000 shares.

Money on call closed firm at 4 per cent. bid, and 4½ per cent. asked. All business was done at 4 per cent. Sterling Exchange steady. Silver ⅛c. lower at 64⅞.

THE WEEK IN BELFAST.

STRIKE PRECAUTIONS.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

From all points of view it has been an interesting week; but the strike across the water, of course, has overshadowed local matters to a very large extent. The great question is whether, if ever, the local unions will be "called up." Inquiries in trade union circles evoke very cautious replies.

Meanwhile the Government is taking no chances. Coal is being rationed for household consumption; train services generally are being curtailed, and housewives are finding that it takes longer than heretofore to boil a kettle. Various rumours are floating around about Queen's Island and tramway stoppages, but it is impossible to get confirmation of them. Incidentally, it is very unfortunate that the mine at Coalisland is not in very satisfactory working order, as in the event of a prolonged stoppage of imports a regular supply from it would have been invaluable. I am unable to say just exactly what is the matter. I had it explained to me, but the language used was so technical that, except for a vague theory that the ground was very heavy there, and that propping was difficult, I was not much the wiser.

Turning to local affairs, one awards the palm to Lady Craig's "Egg and Elephant"—it sounds like a rather good name for a publichouse—sale at the Ulster Hall. It happens not infrequently that when bazaars are held under distinguished patronage that people in the background do all the work, while the distinguished patronage takes the credit. It is otherwise, however, in this case, as Lady Craig has devoted an enormous amount of energy and enthusiasm to the work; and, while both were infectious, and she had many willing and able helpers, the chief credit is universally, and rightly, laid at her door. It was a happy thought to invite Mrs. Chichester and Mr. Devlin to perform jointly the opening ceremony on the second day. They have had so many sparring matches in Parliament that they obviously enjoyed meeting on a neutral platform, though even there neither could quite resist having a "hit" at the other, with the result that the very large attendance started the real business of the day in the very best of humours.

Parliament has been busy passing emergency bills, discussing juries, and voting supplies. The jury debate was distinguished by the fact that Sir Dawson Bates, the Minister of Home Affairs, in proposing the bill, spoke well over an hour and a half. Despite its length, it was by no means Sir Dawson's worst effort, and the cheers that greeted his finale were not due solely either to relief or to admiration for a fit of physical endurance. In the debate that followed one gathered that, had the voting been "free," a majority would have supported payment of all juries.

NEW DUBLIN STOCKBROKER.

The Dublin Gazette announces that the Minister for Finance has licensed Mr. Charles Thomas Wallis, of the County Dublin, to act as a stockbroker in buying and selling Government stock and Government securities on commission.

LEOPARDSTOWN RACES.

A MAY MEETING IN CHILLY WEATHER.

It was very disappointing to find wintry conditions and wild weather prevailing yesterday, when the first May meeting took place on the Leopardstown course at Foxrock. Fortunately, the showers did not last long, but the cold wind detracted from the enjoyment of many, and only the wearers of furs—strange attire for May—were able to brave the elements with comfort. The course and enclosures looked very attractive, and the wealth of clematis blossom festooned over the buildings and the backs of the stands had a remarkably decorative effect, and suggested that summer was coming at last.

The attendance was not so large as might have been expected, many cross-Channel visitors to Punchestown having returned hurriedly home, and thus missed some very good sport.

Among those present were:—Sir Walter Nugent, the Right Hon. T. K. Laidlaw, the Right Hon. General Sir Bryan Mahon, and Mr. W. H. West, who acted as Stewards of the meeting; Lady Ardee and the Hon. Maureen Brabazon, Lady Eva Forbes, Lady de Freyne, Lady Hemphill, the Hon. Mrs. Dewhurst, the Hon. BELFAST CORPORATION HOUSES.

CHARGE AGAINST OFFICIAL

Arthur Ritchie, a clerk in the employment of the Belfast Housing Committee, was further charged at Belfast yesterday with the alleged embezzlement of sums of money amounting to £100, the property of the Corporation.

Edward L. Crawford, chauffeur, said that on several occasions in the early part of 1924 he attended at the City Hall Housing Department with a view to getting one of the Corporation houses. In August, 1924, he signed and lodged the application (produced) with Mr. Ritchie. On the 8th October, 1924, he signed an offer to purchase a house at 21 Whitehall parade. Witness paid the accused man £10, and he got a letter to take to Mr. Robert Boyd, the rent agent. Accused man later asked witness for the receipt, stating that he would give him an official receipt. Witness did not get an official receipt. He was not certain as to the dates.

Ritchie was remanded for a further week.

EAST GALWAY'S FINE PERFORMANCE.

J. MOYLAN RIDES THREE WINNERS.

The weather in Dublin yesterday morning was so threatening that many who otherwise would have gone racing must have been deterred from doing so, and as a consequence the attendance was below the average. Those who did venture forth, however, had no reason to complain, as the sport ruled interesting, and backers had a real good innings. Features were the splendid performance of East Galway, who set his big impost in the Newtown Plate at defiance and won in effortless fashion, and the riding of J. Moylan, who had three winning rides.

To begin with, Kildarra Boy and Flying Prince left off joint favourites for the Shankill Hurdle Plate, and, whilst the latter cut up in disappointing fashion, Kildarra Boy practically dominated the situation throughout and scored very comfortably, indeed. Only four runners went to the post for the Stillorgan T.Y.O. Plate, and the odds of 4 to 1 laid on Tag End were landed with consummate ease.

The principal event of the day, the Spring Plate, attracted a field of eleven two-year-olds, and they were a good-looking party, of whom Khedive is an own brother to Vesington King. He, however, is still backward, and a pronounced favourite was found in Belle Aurore, who shaped well behind Nell Gwynne at the Curragh. She now signally failed to reproduce that running, and was beaten at the end of three furlongs, at which point Dunlavin Lass had fairly taken the measure of the opposition, and, making light of the efforts of Hermetic to catch her, won in decisive fashion. Irish Rose whipped round at the post, and Cailin Dubh destroyed her chance by dwelling at the start and losing a considerable amount of ground.

As was presaged in the betting, Minervus proved the good thing he was generally voted to be for the Pavilion Plate, which he won with a lot in hand from Recompense.

East Galway added to his already lengthy list of successes in the Newtown Plate, a two miles welter flat race, and in carrying 13st. 7lb. to very easy victory Mr. J. S. Shepherd's good horse must be credited with having accomplished a very fine performance. Bantam set a strong pace for the first mile, and then Irish Eyes and Too Richy in turn loomed large in the picture, but when given his head in the straight East Galway put the issue beyond doubt in a few strides. For the wind-up we were treated to a thrilling finish in the Tower Plate, in which the well-backed Dux Americanus squeezed home a head in front of Ann B. and The Kid. Details:—

PHŒNIX PARK.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

In view of the attractive character of the programme, it would appear to be tolerably safe to predict a pleasant afternoon's racing at Phoenix Park, and the meeting should provide an appropriate finale to "Punchestown week." The two-year-olds are, as is usual here, well catered for, and a moiety of the half-dozen events are set apart for them. Class is well represented in the Loder Plate, and if such as Timbucktoo, Leander, Port Nelson and Don Pat are saddled, considerable interest will attach to the contest. A special train leaves Broadstone for Ashtown at 2.15 and returns at 6 o'clock. Selections are as follow:—

Clonsilla Plate—White Orb.
Clontarf Plate—Dark Warrior.
Clondalkin Plate—Indian Hero; if absent, Thyssus.
Loder Plate—Timbucktoo or Port Nelson.
Castletown Plate—Grosvenor Happy Boy.

LAWN TENNIS.

IRELAND V. SPAIN.

DAVIS CUP TIE POSTPONED.

It has been found necessary to postpone the tie between Ireland and Spain in the second round of the Davis Cup competition, originally fixed for May 14th, 15th and 17th.

At a meeting of the Irish Committee, held at Fitzwilliam L.T.C. yesterday, the question of fresh dates was gone into very carefully, and it was decided to try and arrange to bring the Spaniards to Dublin in time to play the tie on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 20th, 21st and 22nd.

The task the committee have to face is no easy one. The reduced train service in England is the chief trouble, but, in addition, the Spanish Association have to agree to whatever arrangements are made, and the International Federation have to approve of them. Agreement is not made any more easy by the lack of the usual postal facilities.

Ticket holders are informed that all tickets purchased will be available for whatever dates may be finally fixed.

BELGIUM v. HOLLAND.

NOORDWIJK, May 7.

Play in the first round tie of the Davis Cup competition between Belgium and Holland began here to-day, when each country won one singles. J. Washer (Belgium) beat Van Lennep (Holland), 4-6, 6-3, 8-6, 3-6, 6-2, and H. Timmer (Holland) beat J. Laloux (Belgium), 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

FRANCE v. UNITED STATES.

PARIS, Friday.

An agreement has now been come to between the French and United States Lawn Tennis Federation with regard to the form of the match between the two nations, to be played at the Croix Catelan, on May 28th, 29th and 30th. There will be four Men's Singles and one Men's Doubles, as in the Davis Cup, the matches, however, being limited to three sets; three Women's Singles, one Women's Doubles, and two Mixed Doubles.

The United States will be represented by Vincent Richards, Howard Kinsey, Miss Helen Wills, Miss Ryan, Mrs. Jessup, Miss Mary Browne and Miss Goss. The French team has not yet been chosen.

Miss Wills continues to train at the Racing Club every day when the weather permits. She has lately been measuring her strength against some of the best players of the club, and caused some surprise by beating Coulteau, who stands in the front rank of French Singles' players in straight sets. Miss Wills still seems to find some difficulty when faced with a short-cut ball, and is paying particular attention to this point.

BOROTRA'S ACCIDENT.

Borotra has recently been the victim of an accident, due to his extraordinary mobility. In endeavouring to take an impossible ball he crashed into the wire netting surrounding the court, hurting himself considerably. Given first aid by a doctor present, it now seems certain that after a few days rest he will have recovered completely.

GREAT BRITAIN v. POLAND.

Great Britain plays Poland in the first round of the Davis Cup to-day at Harrogate. Teams:—Great Britain—G. R. Crole Rees, O. G. N. Turnbull, C. H. Kingsley and J. D. P. Wheatley. Poland—Steinert, E. Kleinadel and S. Ozetwertynski.

LEINSTER CLUB.—The courts of the L.C.C. Tennis Club, Rathmines, will be open for play to-day.

HANDBALL.

G.A.A. CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Two matches in the Intermediate Championship of the City and County Dublin were decided in the Castle Court yesterday evening. The first was the conclusion of an unfinished match between T. Mullen (U.C.D.) and J. O'Reilly (D.M.G.). When they started yesterday evening Mullen was two games up and O'Reilly one. After a fine struggle O'Reilly won the first game, equalising by 21-18, and winning the second by 21-12 he gained the rubber. Mullen played good handball, but a "scotch" loss of O'Reilly's puzzled his opponent, and gained a number of aces for him.

The second match was between A. Nolan (D.M.G.) and M. Mullen (U.C.D.), and was won by Nolan, after a well-contested rubber, by 21-14, 21-7, 21-13. Mullen's killing was very good at times, but the all-round play of Nolan was superior, and he made matters very awkward by good "scotching."

In the Depôt, Sergeant J. McGrath (Civic Guards) had charge of the inter-club matches between D.M.G. "B" and St. Patrick's, in which the D.M.G. won three points.

P. Moloney and J. Maher (D.M.G.) beat K. Mallon and D. McGinley (St. Patrick's), 21-3, 21-15.

D. Berry and T. Terrance (D.M.G.) beat G. Smith and M. G. McColgan (St. Patrick's), 21-11, 21-7.

J. McHale and M. Conlan (D.M.G.) beat J. Honohan and K. Mallon (St Patrick's), 21-20, 21-5.

ATHLETICS.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY H. AND A. CLUB.

The members of the Dublin University Harrier and Athletic Club are more enthusiastic than ever this year, and yesterday, despite the unfavourable weather, there was a large turn-out in the College Park.

Three events were on the programme:—220 Yards, Half-Mile and High Jump—but, owing to the heavy state of the ground, the Jump had to be postponed till Tuesday next.

There was a large turn-out in the 220 Yards, which was run in four heats. The final was won by J. F. Lawrence, off the 16 yards mark, the scratch man, R. R. Woods, being second, and O'Donnell (10 yards) third. There were 18 competitors in the Half-Mile, and an interesting race resulted in R. B. Pike (5 yards) winning from S. B. Weinberger, with G. F. Kidd close up, third. Details:—

220 Yards, Final—J. F. Lawrence (16), 1st; R. R. Woods (scr.), 2nd; T. O'Donnell (10), 3rd. Won easily.

Half-Mile—R. B. Pike (5), 1st; S. B. Weinberger (20), 2nd; G. F. Kidd (40), 3rd. 18 competed.

CRICKET.

RAIN AGAIN STOPS PLAY.

Rain again acted as a spoil sport in English cricket yesterday. At Leyton two brief spells of play took place. The Australians lost another wicket for six runs, and Collins declared during a long wait. Essex had Cutmore incapacitated by a blow on the arm in Gregory's second over, and with two wickets down for 5 runs, heavy rain prevented further play, the match being abandoned at 4 o'clock.

The Old Trafford ground was altogether unfit for cricket, following heavy rain for some hours, and, before one o'clock, the game was abandoned, Lancashire taking first innings points. After an early luncheon, the Lancashire team began the journey by road to Gloucester.

Heavy and frequent rain showers at Cambridge prevented a continuance of play, and the game was left drawn. The players remained until after luncheon, but then soaking rain put all possibility of play completely out of the question.

The Surrey and Glamorgan match was also abandoned as a draw. There was no result on the first innings. Surrey scored 196 for four wickets, being 68 runs behind Glamorgan's total of 264.

GAELIC GAMES.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

THE SEMI-FINAL.

O'TOOLE'S V. CIVIC GUARDS.

(BY PAT'O.)

Sligo footballers were called to represent the Connaught province as a result of their victory in the Railway Cup competitions. They meet Leix at Croke Park to-morrow, and Gaelic adherents will have an opportunity of studying different styles. The Western team played five successive drawn games against Roscommon last year, and this unprecedented sequence led to serious trouble in the inter-provincial ties, making Mr. Breen's term of office as G.A.A. President a very difficult one. Sligo play a "ground" game, with short passing tactics in front of goal. Leix play the long over-head game, which depends for its success on points scored from far out. The Gaelic code of points and goals (1 goal equals 3 points) evens up the chances of the respective counties.

Local interest is centred in the Dublin Senior football 1926 championship final between O'Tooles and Civic Guards. So successful has the recently-grouped Guards' footballers been that one doubts whether an old team like O'Tooles can hold this young and enthusiastic lot of footballers. We have watched the Guards' progress from their crude, uneven stages. They had fifteen men of good credentials six months ago. They played disjointed, ineffective football for some time. Their individualism never dovetailed into the finished fabric which commands success. Each man seemed searching for his own "gallery," and team-effect was at a discount. The Guards' footballers have recovered somewhat from this defect, and approach to-morrow's county final in a healthier spirit. Mr. George Magan, the well-known athlete, has helped to develop a team-spirit in a team of individual talent. Stanley's re-entrance has added morale to the team, and they seem, to my mind, to have the biggest chances of success of any side which has, during four years, tried to break O'Toole's long sequence of success in Dublin championships.

FIXTURES.

At Croke Park.—Leix v. Sligo, semi-final National Football League, 3.0 p.m.; O'Tooles (holders) v. Civic Guards, senior final Dublin Championship, 7.0 p.m.; McKee v. Erin's Own, Senior Football League, 5.45 p.m.

A FAMOUS ATHLETE. PRESENTATION TO SUPERINTENDENT CAREY, D.M.P.

Superintendent Denis Carey having retired from the Garda Siochana after 35 years' service with the D.M.P., his friends in the athletic world and those who recognise the magnificent work he has done for Irish sport, feel that the occasion should not be allowed to pass over without some recognition of his achievements.

An influential committee has been formed under the presidency of Surgeon MacArdle, and the members are anxious that all his friends and admirers should have the opportunity of subscribing, so that the presentation may be worthy of one of the greatest athletes who ever represented Ireland.

Subscriptions may be sent to the Hon. Treasurer, George Tyson, 1 Dame court, Dublin, on or before the 15th inst., on which date the list closes. —(Advt.)

CORK LIBEL ACTION FAILS.

At the Cork Circuit Court yesterday, Judge Kenny heard an action for libel and slander. Thomas J. Barrett, Camden Hotel, Cork, traveller, claimed £300 damages from Francis St. A. Horgan, managing director of the Macroom Engineering Co., the alleged libel being contained in the following words, alleged to have been falsely and maliciously published by the defendant of the plaintiff:—"That we found him intemperate and unsatisfactory, and had to terminate his employment on 20th February, 1926."

The same plaintiff also sued the Macroom Engineering Co., Ltd., for £[illegible], £5 of which was for alleged wrongful dismissal without due notice; £30 for alleged wrongful deprival of the use and possession of a Ford motor car, and £215 balance for work done and services rendered to the defendants by plaintiff in 1925 and 1926, and for commission.

The judge dismissed both actions.

GOLF.

MORAN MEMORIAL.

HOLLEY AND M'DERMOTT IN THE FINAL.

To-day William Holley (Castle) will make his third appearance in a final for the Michael Moran Memorial Cup, he and Matt McDermott (Hermitage) having qualified at Dun Laoghaire yesterday for the 36-hole test.

It will be the seventh final since the institution of the competition by the Leinster Branch. The Cup was thrice won by M. O'Neill, who is now attached to the Wellington Club, Shropshire, and the other winners were Holley (twice) and James Martin (Newlands). To-day's match ought to be productive of an exceedingly close struggle, for both finalists played excellent golf in the four previous matches.

The play in the third round, yesterday, was carried through under trying conditions, with heavy showers and a strong wind, and, the handicap considered, the golf was quite good. In the afternoon the weather was not so severe, and the semi-finals were the most interesting of the two days' matches. The Hermitage man was opposed to Dan Murray in a give-and-take struggle, which went to the home green, where McDermott, as at Cork, prevailed.

Only once was McDermott in arrear, that being at the first, but Murray quickly lost his advantage, for at the third McDermott had a fine 2. Three halves followed, when McDermott again went into the lead, only to surrender it at the 8th. They turned on level terms, and a succession of halves to the 15th ensued. At the 12th, however, Murray looked like going ahead when he holed a long putt for a 4; but his opponent did likewise. A bad lapse by Murray caused him the loss of the 15th, and probably the match. Here he badly topped his drive into the hummocks, and was too strong with his short pitch, and McDermott, playing the hole perfectly, won it in 4. The Skerries man had some luck, however, at the 16th, for, stymied for his approach putt, McDermott laid himself a second stymie, and the match was squared. Murray played the 17th hole the better. His rival's "pitch" from near the bunkers was half-topped, but the ball pulled up quickly, and he may thus have been lucky to secure a half in 4, although he might have been down in 3 but for Murray laying another dead stymie. Murray again sliced his tee shot to the home hole, but, nevertheless, he had a long putt to keep the match going, and he almost holed it.

Holley's match with Nolan went to the 17th green, where the Castle man won. At no time up to the 16th was there much between them; but, out in 34, Holley stood 2 up at the turn, his score being made up of seven 4's and two 3's. An unusual incident happened at the 6th. Here Nolan drove a long ball, which a lamb pounced on and carried a considerable distance before some boys secured it. The match proceeded on even lines, with the golf excellent, but Holley eventually became dormy 3, and won as stated.

The earlier round produced a lot of really good golf, with the match between James Bailey and William Nolan the feature. Out in 36 to 37, the Milltown man was then a hole to the good. He was brought back at the 10th, but forged ahead once more at the 11th. The turning point came at the 14th, which Nolan won in 4 to take the lead, and when he took the 15th in 3 he went on to win by 2 and 1. J. Sullivan brought Holley also to the 17th after the latter had turned 2 up; but Murray and McDermott had easy passages into the semi-final round.

THIRD ROUND.

D. Murray (Skerries) beat J. Quinn (Clontarf), 3 and 1.
M. McDermott (Hermitage) beat J. O'Neill (Howth), 4 and 3.
W. Holley (Castle) beat J. Sullivan (Bray), 2 and 1.
W. Nolan (Portmarnock) beat J. Bailey (Milltown), 2 and 1.

FOURTH ROUND.

McDermott beat Murray, 1 up.
Holley beat Nolan, 2 and 1.

Consolation Prize, for players beaten in the first and second rounds:—James Martin 73, E. Dartnell 74, P. Conner 75, J. Gaffrey 76, J. Barrett 77, T. Shannon 77, T. Gaffrey 78, J. Kelly 78, D. Mahony 79, J. J. Doran 81, J. Murray 81.

Evil Literature.—At a meeting of the Committee of the Clonmel joint branches of the Catholic Truth Society, a resolution was passed declaring "that the joint committees will persist in their efforts to purge the district of the evil literature menace." It was decided to hold a public meeting in the Town Hall to consider the whole question and pass a resolution urging legislation to check the influx of cross-Channel publications of an undesirable nature.

After the Committee had interviewed the Northern Home Minister he was glad to say that the Council were assured that, as hertofore, they would unconditionally receive out of the Road Fund their share of £42,881, and in addition the 60 per cent., 30 per cent., and 15 per cent. of ordinary road classification grants.

REPORT ON FITZGERALD'S

REMARKABLE
BY WIT

IMMEDIATELY after the adjournment of the Dail yesterday afternoon, deputies were supplied from the Clerk's Office with copies of the interim and final reports of the Public Accounts Committee, together with a summary of the Committee's proceedings, minutes of evidence, and appendices. The volume consisted of 425 closely-printed pages.

Both the interim report and the final report already have been published in these columns. With the present publication of the relevant evidence and memoranda it is possible to comprehend pretty clearly the various aspects of national and departmental housekeeping touched upon in the Committee's final report.

Under the heading, "Warlike Stores," there appeared in the Committee's final report (published in the Irish Times) some weeks ago the following paragraphs:—

"In his report the Comptroller and Auditor-General states that a sum of £8,305 paid over to the Ministry of Finance, has been charged to the Army account, under sub-head 9, Warlike Stores, but no vouchers or other documents having been produced to support the payment, he had no means of verifying the admissibility of the sum. The reference is to payments of two sums—viz., £5,045 in October, 1923, and £3,260 in February, 1924, both being paid to the credit of Mr. F. W. Fitzgerald, London, in respect of transactions in chemicals and arms."

Further on the Committee stated that it was not satisfied that there was any liability to pay the sum of £8,125 for 2,500 revolvers or to accept delivery of them two and a half years after the proposal to purchase them was made. The Committee further was "not satisfied that there was any liability for a sum of £2,250 advanced on account of a projected purchase of 10,000 rifles," nor was it satisfied "that there was any liability to pay £2,260 for chemicals said to be stored in London from September 1st, 1923, to December, 1924 (part), and April, 1925 (part)."

The Committee recommended to the Dail that the sum of £8,305, referred to by the Auditor-General, should be disallowed, and made the comment that every item in the account and "almost every incident in connection with the transactions" called for adverse comment.

GENERAL REMARKS.

THE ORIGINAL PAYMENT.

"The original payment of £10,000, made out of Army funds to enable purchases to be made, was itself irregular, but might have been excusable by the circumstances of the time (June, 1922) if that irregularity had stood alone. The absence of records of the orders given, as to price or description, might also, possibly, be passed over, as was done in respect of other accounts examined last year, in view of the stress of circumstances prevailing at the time the transactions were entered upon. But the failure to take cognisance of facts brought to the notice of the Army authorities respecting the prices being paid by the merchant who supplied the goods and the profits being made on the transfer to the Army; the acceptance of liability for goods not delivered; the payment, months after the stress of war conditions had passed, of £5,000 'on account,' when sanction given by the Finance Department was for payment of such a sum 'in settlement' of a doubtful or a disputed claim; the ignoring of the authority of the Accounting Officer (Army Finance Officer); the payment of the moneys by the Department of Finance and the subsequent imperative direction from that Department to the Army Finance Officer to repay the amount out of the Army Vote; the failure to make satisfactory arrangements to obtain delivery of the goods for which the £5,000 was a payment; and, in the final stage, the acceptance of goods, for which payment had already been made, of a quality different from and inferior to those invoiced—all these considerations render it impossible for the same leniency to be extended as was done in respect of other transactions having their origin about the same period.

"(viii) It may appear that other considerations than would legitimately come into the purview of the Accounting Officers concerned or of this Committee are held to warrant payment of the sums in question. If such be the case, it becomes a matter for the Dail to decide, after the Minister has submitted his case to the Dail."

So much of the Committee's final report it is necessary to recall for a proper understanding of the volume now published. It would appear from the summary of the proceedings accompanying the minutes of evidence that the Committee began its consideration of the Army Appropriation Account on the 16th of February last, and on that date it was decided to inform Mr. F. Fitzgerald, of Union Works, Union street, Stratford, London, of the investigations proceeding "with reference to the purchase of arms by him in 1922, and to ask him whether he desired to be heard by the Committee." To assist its inquiry, the Committee requested the Comptroller and Auditor-General to prepare a memorandum for the Committee in respect of the matter. The Committee also called for the production of the departmental files relating to the transactions in question, and appointed a Sub-Committee, consisting of Deputies McCullough, Esmonde, and Conor Hogan, with the chairman, Deputy Johnson, to examine them.

AUDITOR-GENERAL'S MEMORANDUM.

MR. FITZGERALD'S PURCHASES.

It may be as well to start with the memorandum of the Auditor-General. After examining the relevant papers and documents in the possession of the Army Finance Office and the Department of Finance, he reported in the course of this memorandum as follows:

In June, 1922, arrangements were made by the military authorities in Dublin with Mr. Francis W. Fitzgerald, trading as Messrs. Senior, Crozier and Company, Union Works, Union street, Stratford, London, for the purchase of Hotchkiss guns, revolvers, rifles and ammunition, and an imprest of £10,000 was advanced to Mr. Fitzgerald by the Quartermaster-General, from Army Funds, to enable him to make the purchase. From the papers it appears that no written instructions were given.

In addition to the arrangement for the purchase of arms and ammunition Mr. Fitzgerald continued to supply chemicals to the Army as he had been doing previously.

Mr. Fitzgerald purchased from Messrs. Foley and Company, Jewin street, London, in July and August, 1922, the following:—5 Hotchkiss guns, which he invoiced to the Army for £1,000 (the invoice in this case is from the Lavergent Company, Union Works, Union street, Stratford, London, of which company Mr. Fitzgerald was stated to be a partner); 2,500 revolvers, which he invoiced to the Army for £8,125, and he paid to this firm a sum of £2,250 to enable them to secure a definite option from the Disposals Board for the purchase of 10,000 rifles. THE ORIGINAL PAYMENT.

The Committee also called for the production of the departmental files relating to the transactions in question, and appointed a Sub-Committee, consisting of Deputies McCullough, Esmonde, and Conor Hogan, with the chairman, Deputy Johnson, to examine them.

AUDITOR-GENERAL'S MEMORANDUM.

MR. FITZGERALD'S PURCHASES.

It may be as well to start with the memorandum of the Auditor-General. After examining the relevant papers and documents in the possession of the Army Finance Office and the Department of Finance, he reported in the course of this memorandum as follows:

In June, 1922, arrangements were made by the military authorities in Dublin with Mr. Francis W. Fitzgerald, trading as Messrs. Senior, Crozier and Company, Union Works, Union street, Stratford, London, for the purchase of Hotchkiss guns, revolvers, rifles and ammunition, and an imprest of £10,000 was advanced to Mr. Fitzgerald by the Quartermaster-General, from Army Funds, to enable him to make the purchase. From the papers it appears that no written instructions were given.

In addition to the arrangement for the purchase of arms and ammunition Mr. Fitzgerald continued to supply chemicals to the Army as he had been doing previously.

Mr. Fitzgerald purchased from Messrs. Soley and Company, Jewin street, London, in July and August, 1922, the following:—5 Hotchkiss guns, which he invoiced to the Army for £1,000 (the invoice in this case is from the Lavergent Company, Union Works, Union street, Stratford, London, of which company Mr. Fitzgerald was stated to be a partner); 2,500 revolvers, which he invoiced to the Army for £8,125, and he paid to this firm a sum of £2,250 to enable them to secure a definite option from the Disposals Board on the purchase of 10,000 rifles. The purchase of the rifles was never completed, but they were invoiced to the Army by Mr. Fitzgerald for £27,500.

Mr. Fitzgerald does not appear to have made the purchases from Messrs. Soley direct, but through a Mr. J. F. White, who states that the price paid by him for the five Hotchkiss guns was £750, and that the price of the 2,300 revolvers was £4,600, or £2 each, and the price of the 10,000 rifles was £20,000.

In October, 1923, a further payment of £5,045 was made to Mr. Fitzgerald out of public funds. At this date none of the arms or ammunition had been delivered in Dublin, but were stated to be in store in London. In addition, chemicals invoiced at £2,260 were stated to be in store in London. The total of invoices for chemicals purchased by Mr. Fitzgerald between May, 1922, and September, 1923, amounted to £8,329, of which chemicals invoiced at £6,069 had been delivered in Dublin.

From the papers it is not clear why the payment of £5,045 was made to Mr. Fitzgerald, but apparently it was on the understanding that he would deliver the arms, ammunition, and the remainder of the chemicals, or sell them, if so directed by the Free State authorities, though no written undertaking to this effect was obtained from him.

In February, 1924, telegrams were received from Mr. Fitzgerald that he had been served with bankruptcy papers and pressed for an immediate payment of the balance of his account. It subsequently came to light that only a notice had been served on Mr. Fitzgerald, not a petition.

Mr. Fitzgerald appears to have paid Messrs. Soley only £500 on account of the purchase of the revolvers, and the latter obtained a judgment for £1,790 in respect of 1,053 revolvers and later two further judgments for £3,125 17s. 0d. and £22 2s. 0d. costs in respect of the remaining 1,447 revolvers. The judgment for £1,790 appears to have been satisfied by Mr. Fitzgerald. When the second judgments were obtained a person named O'Brien issued an interpleader on the grounds that the revolvers which had been seized by the Sheriff on foot of the judgments had been sold to him. At the hearing, however, neither Mr. Fitzgerald nor Mr. O'Brien appeared, and Messrs. Soley obtained costs against Mr. Fitzgerald.

AN AGREEMENT.

On the 20th February, 1924, it was agreed with Mr. Fitzgerald that he would deliver the 2,500 revolvers and the chemicals in consideration of the Ministry of Finance paying him £1,400 and paying to Messrs. W. Soley the amount of that firm's claim against him. In pursuance of this agreement the Ministry of Finance, on 21st February, 1924, paid to Messrs. Soley's solicitor the sum of £3,220 in settlement of the judgment, debts and costs and subsequent legal expenses. The receipt was given in favour of Mr. Fitzgerald, and it stated thereon that Mr. O'Brien had no claim. £40 was paid in respect of the sheriff's and auctioneer's charges, but the payment of £1,400 to Mr. Fitzgerald was withheld pending delivery.

On 22nd February, 1924, Mr. Fitzgerald personally removed the revolvers from Messrs. Soley's premises. He refused, however, to hand over to the Free State officials either the revolvers or the chemicals which were now in his possession unless he was paid a further sum of £700 in addition to the £1,400 already agreed upon. The grounds on which the claim for £700 is based are not clear from the papers, but in fact he did not appear to have any claim.

Steps were then taken to institute proceedings against Mr. Fitzgerald for delivery of the revolvers and chemicals and to enforce the agreement of 20th February, 1924.

The firm of Messrs. Senior, Crozier and Company, of which Mr. Fitzgerald was the proprietor, was turned into a limited company and a claim for payment of debts due to Mr. Fitzgerald by the Free State was received from a firm of accountants on behalf of the new company. Payment was claimed as a matter of urgency as a Receiving Order had been made against Mr. Fitzgerald by a firm who had supplied him with explosives.

On 17th December, 1924, Mr. Fitzgerald wrote to the Chief State Solicitor, and informed him that he was prepared to carry out the agreement of 20th February, 1924, and to hand over the revolvers and chemicals in exchange for the payment of the £1,400 agreed upon. This sum was paid to him on 19th December, 1924, and he gave a receipt stating that the goods handed over were of the kind and quality specified. An undertaking was also signed by him that if he recovered from Messrs. Soley and Co. the sum of £2,250 paid as deposit on the rifles, or any sum, he was to refund 50 per cent. of the amount recovered to the Free State Government.

THE CHEMICALS.

The revolvers and chemicals were handed over on 19th December, 1924. The revolvers were forwarded to Dublin, where, on arrival it was found that 61 were missing. The chemicals, with the exception of 224 cwts. of potassium chlorate, were stored in London with a view to disposal there. The potassium chlorate was stated by Mr. Fitzgerald to be warehoused on his behalf with a London Chemical Company and a Delivery Order on this firm was given by Mr. Fitzgerald, but it was found that the chemicals were not stored at the address given. After lengthy correspondence and threat of legal proceedings, the chemicals were delivered by Mr. Fitzgerald from his premises in Stratford in April, 1925.

Arrangements were then made for the sale of the chemicals in London. The 11 tons 4 cwts. of potassium chlorate invoiced at £56 a ton were found on analysis to be potassium perchlorate admixed with impurities, and were sold to Messrs. Nobel Industries, Ltd., for £13 a ton or £145 12s. 0d. which was the best price obtainable. The remainder of the chemicals stored in London was sold to the same firm for £181 4s. 6d. The gross amount realised was, therefore, £326 16s. 6d.

SUMMARY OF TRANSACTIONS.

The following is a summary of the transactions with Mr. Fitzgerald from May, 1922, to the date of this report, as shown by the papers submitted to me:—

There was paid to Mr. Fitzgerald direct or on his behalf sums amounting to £19,705. The payments were made as follows:—

June, 1922, £10,000 from Army Vote.

October, 1923, £5,045; February, 1924, £3,260—advanced by Ministry of Finance, and recovered subsequently from Army Vote, 1923-1924.

December, 1924, £1,400—advanced by Ministry of Finance and recovered from Army Vote, 1924-1925.

Against these payments Mr. Fitzgerald supplied or undertook to supply:—

(1) Chemicals, invoiced at £6,069, which were delivered to the National Army. The papers referred to me do not state how these chemicals have been disposed of.

(2) Chemicals, invoiced at £2,260, which were subsequently sold in London for £326 16s. 6d. On analysis the bulk of these chemicals was found to be different and inferior to the specification.

(3) 2,500 revolvers, invoiced at £8,125, and purchased from Messrs. Soley for (apparently) £5,415.

(Mr. White, who bought the revolvers for Mr. Fitzgerald, says the price agreed upon for 2,300 was £4,600.)

(4) Five Hotchkiss guns, invoiced at £1,000, for which Mr. Fitzgerald paid £750. These guns were confiscated by the British authorities in London and were never delivered to the National Army; and

(5) He paid, through Mr. White, £2,250 to Messrs. Soley and Co., to purchase an option on 10,000 rifles from the Disposals Board. A despatch from the British Colonial Office says no option was purchased from the Disposals Board, and pressure is now being brought on Mr. Fitzgerald for the return of this sum.

THE EVIDENCE.

MR. WHITE ON GETTING ARMS.

Mr. J. F. White, London, was examined by the Committee on the 19th of March. He said that during the period when the "Black-and-Tans" were in Ireland there was a great shortage of weapons in this country, and emissaries were sent to England for the purpose of getting arms. He came in contact with some of these, and with one in particular, who passed in England as Pat McMahon. Witness understood that his name was Matt Barry, and that he belonged to the Mid-Limerick Brigade of the I.R.A. Barry explained to witness that the shortage of weapons was very great, and that it was very urgent that an effort should be made to provide him with arms and ammunition. Being an Irishman, and feeling very strongly about the position of affairs in Ireland at the time, witness thought it his duty to co-operate in doing this, and he was instrumental in getting small supplies. For a time he had an office in London, which he placed at the disposal of Commandant Barry.

Just before the Treaty an attempt was made to seize arms from the Guards' barracks at Windsor. Four men were arrested, and were afterwards sentenced to heavy terms of imprisonment. Witness proposed to Fitzgerald that if risks were to be run the thing should be done on a bigger scale. He got in touch with a firm in London—a firm of professional gun-runners. They had a lot of ex-Army stuff which they had bought, and which they were at that time supplying to various countries, like Greece and one of the South American Republics. He mentioned this to Mr. Fitzgerald, who asked him to meet him one day in the Four Provinces Club. Witness met him there, and he had brought with him a man whose name was given as Sean Golden, who said that he was Assistant Director of Purchases for the I.R.A. at the time. Golden told him that large supplies of arms were necessary, and he gave him a list which embraced automatic pistols, machine guns, quick-firers, etc.

"When Golden gave me this list," said Mr. White, "he said it was urgently necessary to get the arms. I was given to understand that these rifles were required for use in anticipation of trouble with Ulster.

"I was even told by Fitzgerald that the intention was to arm the irregulars, and that in order to do that the rifles supplied by the British Government could not be used, because every British rifle is stamped with a number, and if one were lost and afterwards recovered it could be identified.

"The intention was to buy arms privately, and to supply the irregulars with those."

Witness opened negotiations with the firm of gun-runners and obtained certain offers. Golden told him that these offers were to be submitted to Mr. Fitzgerald, who was constantly travelling between Dublin and London. An offer was made and taken up seriously for 2,300 revolvers at £2 each. Witness had a receipt for £750 paid for five Hotchkiss guns. Witness read a letter from the dealers regretting that they were unable to come to any arrangements "whereby your connections can settle the matter of '45' offer, especially as the price we submitted is, we venture to think, exceedingly low."

PACKED IN BARRELS.

That offer of revolvers was accepted by Mr. Fitzgerald, and arrangements were made, after a great deal of negotiation, that the revolvers were to be packed in barrels and delivered to a warehouse which they selected. Fitzgerald made an appointment to take up the revolvers which he did not keep. He broke several other appointments as well. Subsequently they got into touch with the dealers, who informed them that the revolvers were sold and could not be supplied. Then Mr. Fitzgerald said to him: "Well, now, I have told the people on the other side that I have got these revolvers, and I must produce them." He gave witness £600 in cash to take to the dealers to try to induce them to let him have a small number of them. The dealers refused to give a partial delivery, and the result was that the revolvers were never taken up at all. No money was paid upon that, and the revolvers were never bought.

"The next I heard of the revolvers," said witness, "was when I read that they were bought up afterwards and £3 5s. each paid for them."

RIFLES IN "THE TOWER."

In August, 1922, he received an offer for rifles. They had been negotiating for the purchase of 10,000 .303 rifles, 1915 pattern, which were stored in the Tower of London, and which could be bought. The dealer said that he could obtain these rifles, and arrangements were made whereby he was to purchase these rifles, and they were to be placed in a van, "with the driver under our control, who could take them away afterwards. A deposit of £2,250 was paid as part payment of those rifles. I have the original receipt here made out to me. It is dated 2nd August, 1922."

As the result of that deposit, witness undertook to purchase outright and deliver those 10,000 rifles to a public warehouse, as soon as the balance of the purchase money (less the £2,250) had been placed in the bank. The price of the rifles was £2 each. It was agreed that witness was to get 5 per cent. commission upon the total purchases.

In March, 1923, a man called to see him at the Four Provinces Club. He was a man through whom Fitzgerald was doing a good deal in the way of supplying chlorate of potash. Witness told him that the price of chlorate of potash was £28 9s. 0d. per ton, and the man told him that Fitzgerald was supplying them with it at £55 per ton. Witness thought that the man was a Free Stater. So far as witness knew, Mr. Golden was acting for his principals on this side.

Answering Mr. Hewat, the witness said that the price of the revolvers was to be £2 each, but they were subsequently bought at £3 5s. 0d. each; and in the case of the Hotchkiss guns the price was to be £750, but they paid £1,000 for them. "I consider," said the witness, "that that is a very excessive profit, considering that Mr. Fitzgerald took no risks in the matter at all; he threw the onus on me." Witness had no knowledge whatsoever of what Mr. Fitzgerald bought.

MR. WHITE'S LETTER.

THE PURCHASE TRANSACTIONS.

An appendix (X.) to the report contains a letter, addressed by Mr. White on 19th of September, 1922, to Major-General MacMahon, the then Chief of Staff. In the course of this letter Mr. White stated that previous to the Treaty he had rendered such assistance to the Mid-Limerick Brigade of the I.R.A. as he was able to render, and had placed at the disposal of the Brigade's representative (Commandant Patrick Barry) in England the sole use of one of his offices in St. Martin's lane, London. "The actual number of revolvers I secured," the letter continued, "was small, as I was obliged to secure these from English ex-officers; but after careful inquiry I found an Englishman in the armament business who was able to lay his hand upon large quantities, and who had no scruples about gun-running. . . . I mentioned to Mr. Fitzgerald that I had this connection, and shortly after the Treaty he introduced me to Mr. Shan Golden (Assistant Director of Purchases) in the Four Provinces Club, London, as a man who could render assistance in securing the goods of which Mr. Golden was in search. Mr. Golden gave me a long list of the articles required, and I undertook the work of finding them."

Mr. White went on to say that he had been instructed by Mr. Golden to proceed "to secure suitable offers," and to make those offers through Mr. Fitzgerald, as the last-named was in frequent touch with Dublin. Having detailed his efforts to secure offers of "practically everything that was required," Mr. White mentioned that the first which interested Mr. Fitzgerald was the offer of 2,300 Webley revolvers at £2 each. Mr. Fitzgerald asked him to find a suitable warehouse for hiding the goods, and he did so. Finally Mr. Fitzgerald agreed to the purchase, and fixed an appointment "with the English merchant, when he and I were to attend with the cash and secure the goods." Mr. Fitzgerald did not keep the appointment, and, in fact, postponed it several times, although repeatedly informed that the merchant had an offer from the Brazilian Government. Eventually when Mr. Fitzgerald did start out for the interview with the dealer it was too late, as the latter informed him over the telephone that the goods had been sold to the Brazilian Government the day before.

THE CLAIM FOR PAYMENT.

"So far as my part in the matter was concerned," the letter continued, "I had done everything humanly possible to bring the business to a successful conclusion, and Mr. Fitzgerald agreed that I should receive the commission upon the deal, and actually made an appointment with me at his office, when the sum due (actually, he suggested £250, instead of £230) should be paid to me, less £60, which he had already paid on account of my out-of-pocket expenses. When I arrived at his office, however, he informed me that the keys of his safe had been lost, and he could not get a cheque. The next day he told me that he had reconsidered the matter. He said that he had informed the Q.M.G. in Dublin that he had actually purchased the 2,300 revolvers, and that they were in his possession, and that, therefore, he must secure a similar lot immediately, as deliveries would be expected in Dublin. He made the same statement to the English merchant, and said that he was willing to pay a much higher price to get possession of a number of similar revolvers, as his position in Dublin had become difficult, he feeling that deliveries were being looked for. At the same time, he told me that, in view of the heavier price he expected to pay, he did not intend to pay my commission. He stated that he had already paid £400 in commission to Irishmen placed between himself and G.H.Q., Dublin, which, he said, would be a dead loss to himself. I made every effort to secure a further supply, but the best offer I could get was an offer to manufacture them in Spain, which would take several weeks, and Mr. Fitzgerald wanted immediate delivery. Mr. Fitzgerald now insists that the whole transaction was a purely commercial one—no actual purchase, no commission. . .

I, therefore, claim as due to me, without forfeiting a particle of my pride as an Irishman, the sum of £250, less £60 already paid, and I am perfectly willing that my claim should be judged by Irishmen, who have no respect for the man who wishes to make a profit out of his country's needs. . .

I am aware that you cannot officially recognise any of these transactions, and I do not ask you to do so. I ask that Mr. Fitzgerald be ordered to pay to me the sums due immediately or as soon as the statements herein made are verified. I have drawn up this statement carefully, and am prepared to swear to the truth of every detail before the altar, if necessary, and if any are denied by Mr. Fitzgerald, I would ask that opportunity be given for proofs to be adduced. . .

MEANT FOR ULSTER.

Mr. Fitzgerald informed me that, whereas the Free State could purchase rifles openly from Mr. Cope of the British Government, it was desired to obtain a large number secretly for use against Ulster so that, in the event of any of these rifles being lost in battle, they could not be identified as having been supplied to the Free State. As you are aware, a complete record is kept of every British Army rifle, and the loss of a single one might cause very grave complication. But as these rifles were to be sold to me, which sale would be recorded for police inspection in the English gun dealers' books, it is perfectly clear that the first rifle lost in operations in Ulster would bring the whole transaction home to me immediately. It is idle for Mr. Fitzgerald, who would be completely covered in the transaction, to pretend that, in this deal, I was taking any but the gravest risk not only from imprisonment by the English police, but from murder by the Orange parties. I may say that as a family man—but from no other point of view as the personal risk does not trouble me—I have suffered the gravest anxiety over this matter, but I felt it had to be done.

I have been notified by the gun dealer that the Disposals Board have withdrawn the option, and he now proposes to make a claim upon me for loss of profit and compensation, the rifles having been held ready for delivery at a moment's notice, till the option expired. This option was closed immediately after the Hotchkiss case, I believe, which shows that the police connected the two transactions.

Mr. Fitzgerald informed me that he had means of getting the rifles secretly to Ireland, but did not disclose these, and I did not question him, as my part of the transaction was to procure the goods and accept responsibility for their purchase, under the licence of Mr. Pollock (referred to as the man who was paid to take out a licence). These duties I have fulfilled, and I now leave the matter in your hands, with the single request that you will not accept any statement Mr. Fitzgerald may make as final, without a fair investigation.

GENERAL MULCAHY AND THE COMMITTEE.

REFUSAL TO ATTEND.

After the examination of Mr. White, the Public Accounts Committee adjourned until the 31st March, 1926. When it re-assembled on that date, Deputy Johnson (the chairman) mentioned that the Clerk of the Committee had written to General Mulcahy requesting his attendance as a witness. General Mulcahy, in the course of his reply, stated: "In the matter of the purchase of the arms and chemicals referred to, I have not any information which is not in the possession of the Department of Defence, and which cannot be obtained by the Committee from that Department. I do not, therefore, propose to attend the Committee's meeting to-morrow morning."

In his reply to that letter, the Clerk of the Committee stated: "Your letter of to-day's date, dealing with the question of your attendance before the Committee, has been received and submitted to the chairman. In reply, he wishes to remind you that the Committee has been specifically authorised to send for persons, papers and records, with a view to aiding it in the discharge of its work. It is essential to bear in mind the nature of the work discharged by the Committee. . . . The work of the Committee may, in fact, be regarded as the sign of the sovereignty of the Oireachtas. He profoundly regrets, in consequence, that you have thought fit to refuse to attend, as requested, for the purpose of helping to elucidate the matters brought out in the report of Comptroller and Auditor-General, and explained to you in the letter of yesterday's date. This refusal is unique in the history of the Dail, and is, in his opinion, a grave fact, having regard to the high position and responsibilities lately held by you, and to your present position as Deputy. He feels that the example of your refusal may be harmful to the free development of Parliamentary institutions. . . ."

To this General Mulcahy made the following response:—"In reply to your letter of to-day, I desire to refer you again to my letter of this morning, and to say that I hope, in spite of what the chairman may feel about it, that it may be found to be a contribution to what you call 'the free development of Parliamentary institutions,' a matter in which I am at least as interested as is the chairman."

This correspondence having been read by Deputy Johnson to the Committee, witnesses were called for examination.

The first was Mr. T. Gorman, Army Finance Officer. Asked by the chairman if he accepted responsibility, as accounting officer, for the payment of the £8,305 referred to by the Auditor-General, he replied that the payments were made by direct instruction of the Department of Finance. In reply to further questions, witness said that he received direct instruction in the form of a letter. At first he demurred to the payment, as he had had nothing whatever to do with the actual negotiations leading up to the payment. He had not been able to find any records of the purchases made at the time. A search had been made but no record of the type of article required or of negotiations as to price or period of delivery had been found. Witness imagined that the proceedings were verbal.

Mr. Walter Doolin, of the Department of Finance, gave evidence that he represented the Department in treating with Mr. Fitzgerald in London in February, 1924, and again in December of the same year. In the account that he was sent over to settle there was an item representing £2,260 to cover certain chemicals said to be stored in London. Witness did not take any means of checking whether that quantity was in store, as there were no means by which he could do so; his function was not to check, it was to get delivery of the goods lying to the order of the Department of Defence in London.

Mr. Sean Golden also gave evidence.

Further excerpts from the Committee's report will be given in future issues of the Irish Times.

CLOSE OF THE FEIS CEOIL.

TENOR WINS DRAMATIC SOLO COMPETITION.

McCALL CUP, BASS AND SENIOR PIANO CONTESTS.

The closing day of the Feis Ceoil showed no waning in popular interest. On the contrary, the dramatic solo singing in the Metropolitan Hall, which was the final event last night, was witnessed by the largest audience of the whole festival. Earlier in the day in the same hall the solo singing in Irish for the P. J. McCall Cup and the bass solo contest were decided. In the Abbey Lecture Hall the day was devoted to the senior pianoforte competition.

Dramatic Solo Singing.—Special prize for dramatic solo singing—Silver Cup, presented by the Rathmines and Rathgar Musical Society, and honorary membership of the society for one year. Open to all voices. Won by Mr. Patrick Kirwan, 3 Clarinda Park, West, Kingstown (94 marks). Highly commended—Mr. Leo Brill, 88 Donore terrace, North Circular road, Dublin (92 marks), and Miss Leila Fineberg, Dalkey Lodge, Dalkey (90 marks). Commended—Miss Sylvia Fannin, 37 Herbert Park, Dublin (86 marks).

Mr. Robert Radford, who adjudicated, said that among the younger candidates the gesture was far too much. Some of the work presented had been very good indeed. No. 4—Miss Fannin—in the Mad Margaret scene from "Ruddigore" had acted splendidly, with great histrionic ability, but the voice was a little too weak. Of No. 9 (Miss Fineberg), in the mad scene from "Lucia di Lammermoor," the adjudicator said that the performance was beautiful, well studied, and exceedingly well done; but under pressure the voice took on a certain tremolo. Then they had a very fine rendering of the Prologue to "Pagliacci" by No. 7 (Mr. Leo Brill)—perhaps a little over-sentimentalised.

Referring then to Mr. Patrick Kirwan's performance of a scene from "The Lily of Killarney," Mr. Radford said—I think myself that this was splendid. (Applause.) He actually was Myles. He looked it; and that beautiful colour of the voice just suited it. I have the greatest pleasure in awarding him the prize.

Mr. Radford then, to the delight of the audience, himself sang three songs—Osmin's song from "Il Seraglio" (Mozart), Don Bartolo's song from "Le Nozze di Figaro" (Mozart), and the Irish air, "The Donovans."

A TYPICAL FOLK SINGER.

P. J. McCall Memorial Cup, for Solo Singing, with Irish Words.—Won by No. 5, Miss Sheila Kelly, Donabate, Co. Dublin. Highly commended—No. 19, Denis Cox, 4 Raymond-street, South Circular road, Dublin, and No. 20, John Piatt, 5 Ardan Brighde, Dublin.

Mr. Eamonn O'Neill, who judged the Irish pronunciation, said that the competitors coming up now seemed to know what they were singing about. There was a very considerable and very great improvement in the pronunciation.

Professor Granville Bantock said that in the lady and two gentlemen he had recalled they had three exceptionally good singers. They had to regard this folk song competition from the musical point of view as well as from the language point of view. The last singer (No. 20) was doing extremely valuable work in the preservation of the old folk song. He was the real folk singer. Rhythm, melody and harmony were the three essentials—like faith, hope and charity—but rhythm was the first and greatest. It was certainly much more satisfactory in the case of the young lady. Her grace notes and phrasing were handled with ease, and one felt she was singing without any difficulty.

Mrs. P. J. McCall, who was present, presented the Cup to the winner, amidst applause.

Song with Irish Harp Accompaniment.—Cup presented by Miss C. Townshend (3 entries)—Won by Miss Margaret O'Donoghoe, 29 Fontenoy street, Dublin (90 marks); 2nd, Miss Frances O'Donovan, 26 Barrett's Buildings, Cork (85 marks); 3rd, Miss Annie Ryan, 1 Helena Villa, North Mall, Cork (80 marks).

Professor Granville Bantock said it was a very interesting experience to hear the Irish harp. His difficulties as adjudicator were increased by the fact that he did not know the language in which the songs were sung, but he was assured by Mr. O'Neill that the three competitors sang as if they knew their language. He had no hesitation in awarding the cup.

Ladies' Trio in Irish (11 entries)—Test: Ban Chnoic Eireann Ogh (O. Maolmuaid).—1st, No. 11, Aquinas Trio, Dominican College, Eccles street, Dublin (Una McKenna, E. O'Driscoll and Cassie Stokes); 2nd, Dominican College Trio, Sion Hill (May Kelly, Mary O'Connor and Agatha Lynch); highly commended, Muckross Trio, Dominican Convent, Donnybrook (Gracie Hughes, Lil Hackett and Florrie Kenny).

Mixed Quartet in Irish.—Test—Casadh an Tsugáin (Robert O'Dwyer). There was only one entry, Mr. Hubert Rooney's Quartet B (Misses F. Cullen, D. Cullen, and Messrs. Sean O'Hegarty and Leo Fogarty), and no prize could be awarded.

Boys' Solo (15 entries).—Tests—(a) "Fairy Ways" (Dermot MacMorrough), (b) "I Saw From the Beach" (Stanford), (c) An easy piece at sight.—1st, No. 7, William Hayes, Edmondstown Park, Rathfarnham, Dublin. No. 13, Seumas Gallen, Corpus Christi, Drumcondra, was second, but, having won the same prize last year, was disqualified, and the 2nd prize was awarded to No. 14, Coram P. Doyle, 13 Iona road, Glasnevin, Dublin. 3rd, No. 8, Robert Maguire, 15 Molesworth street, Dublin.

LACK OF EXPRESSION.

Dr. Bairstow said that all the competitors had got good voices, but there was very little expression in their singing. But the worst fault was the sight reading.

Referring to the winner, he said that this boy had given a very expressive reading of "Fairy Ways." In the second song also the singing was good, although he also pulled the tune about. He was virtually the only one who kept the tune going in the sight reading test.

Bass Solo Singing (13 entries).—Tests—(a) "Droop Not, Young Lover" (Handel), (b) "The Little Red Fox" (Wood), (c) An easy piece at sight.—1st, No. 6, J. W. Worlin, 24 Wigan road, Glasnevin; 2nd, No. 8, Donald E. Beaven, 18 Inverness road, Fairview. No. 7, Andrew E. O'Byrne, 20 Charleville road, Rathmines (winner of silver medal, 1925); No. 10, Thomas Keane, Arundel square, Waterford (winner of silver medal, 1923); and No. 11, Edward Stankley, 32 Casimir road, Harold's Cross (winner of bronze medal, 1925) were next in order, but were disqualified, and the 3rd prize was awarded to No. 9, T. H. Gallwey, Rockfield, Tramore, Waterford.

A PROMISING BASS.

Mr. Robert Radford said that he was a little disappointed at this competition. Real bass voices were very few—a number of the singers were baritones trying to sing bass. Another thing he noticed was that the Handel song had seemed to frighten the singers. There was a lot of variety and fun in this song which might have been rendered, but generally it had been sung like an exercise. No. 6, to whom he had awarded first place, had a most excellent voice. He sang well in tune and like a man. He was a most promising singer.

Ladies' Vocal Trio (19 entries). Tests—(a) "Lullaby" (Cyril Scott), accompanied; (b) "I Saw Lovely Phyllis" (Miller). 1st, No. 7, Dublin Philharmonic Society, Trio B. (Misses M. Roberts, M. O'Toole, and B. Casserly); 2nd, No. 17, Wesley College Trio (Misses Dorothy Smith, Madge Lougheed, and Eileen Pierce); 3rd, No. 3, Miss Culwick's Trio (Misses Phyllis Reeves, D. Pasley, and Olive Gilbert).

Dr. Bairstow said that the standard had varied. In the "Cradle Song" some had done very badly; the ending had proved too much for them.

The winning trio (No. 7) had sung very sweetly and tenderly, and their phrasing had been fine in the Lullaby. They got an excellent ensemble. The second piece had been taken at a very fast tempo, but the intonation was well maintained.

Senior Piano (48 entries). Tests—(a) Sonata in E flat Op. 81A (Beethoven); (b) Piece at sight. 1st, Miss Eileen Braid, Vernon avenue, Clontarf. Miss Irene Nabarro, Hannaville Park, Terenure, was second, but, having won the silver medal last year, second place was awarded to Miss May Hughes, 26 Clyde road (Bronze Medal in 1925); 3rd, Miss Lilian Connolly, Fernville, Glasnevin. Highly commended—Fred May, 38 Marlboro' road, Donnybrook; Miss Laelia Fineberg, Dalkey Lodge, Dalkey, and Miss Grace Hughes, 26 Clyde road, Dublin.

Irish Fiddles.—1st, Miss Marie O'Meara, 2 Wellington street, Clonmel; 2nd, Miss Frances O'Donovan, 26 Barrett's Buildings, Cork; 3rd, Edward Potts, 6 Watkin's Buildings, Coombe, Dublin.

Irish Pipes.—1st, Seumas Mac Aonghusa, Ballyhamish, Fingall, Co. Dublin; 2nd, Edward Potts, 6 Watkin's Buildings, Coombe, Dublin; 3rd, Sean O'Leary, Spring Hill, Enniscorthy; highly commended, Thomas Rowsome, 125 Harold's Cross road, Dublin.

Junior Pipes (1 entry).—James Blake, 88 Francis street, Dublin, was recommended for second prize.

Unpublished Irish Airs.—Airs were submitted by Seumas Mac Aonghusa, Ballyhamish, Fingall, Co. Dublin; Miss Sheila Kelly, An Dun, Donabate, Co. Dublin; Miss Sheila Murray, Farmleigh, Castleknock, Co. Dublin; Miss Roslyn Sheehan, 120 Tritonville road, Sandymount, Dublin. The result will be announced in due course.

Mr. Arthur Darley, Prof. Robert O'Dwyer, and Mr. D. J. O'Sullivan were the adjudicators in the Irish Fiddles, Pipes, and Irish Airs Competitions.

The unveiling of the War Memorial to the Jewish men who fell in the Great War, by Viscount Allenby, arranged for next Sunday at the London Synagogue, has been cancelled.

FEIS NOTES.

KEEN COMPETITION FOR THE RATHMINES CUP.

The new arrangement of the week's proceedings brought into yesterday's programme those Irish competitions which formerly were left to the undoubted repose of Saturday morning. Competitors in the classes for Irish fiddles, Irish pipes, and unpublished Irish airs have cast their strains hitherto into the resounding emptiness of whatever hall was appointed. This year, being given the Abbey Lecture Hall at night, they had their own special audience, while at the same time it seemed as if almost everybody in Dublin with an interest in music was trying to get into the Metropolitan Hall for the dramatic solo singing competition. There the stewards made gallant efforts to accommodate the utmost number of listeners. The audience was the largest ever assembled for a Feis Ceoil competition.

During the day the Metropolitan Hall had been occupied by Irish-singing competitors for the Townshend Cup and the P. J. McCall Memorial Cup until late in the afternoon, when the bass solo class was heard by Mr. Robert Radford. Elsewhere the senior pianoforte class went on through the day. Mr. Reddie, who has had some heavy tasks this week, was doomed yesterday to hear nearly fifty competitors in a Beethoven sonata. This competition always is contested keenly, and gives strong evidence of Dublin's high standing as a home of pianoforte technique.

AN ATTRACTIVE COMPETITION.

The dramatic solo singing competition was instituted some years ago for a cup given by the Rathmines and Rathgar Musical Society, and it is always an attractive competition, because the conditions prescribe singing "with appropriate gestures," and costume is in order. Last night the first competitor appeared in gipsy costume to sing "In galling fetters they bound her," from "Il Trovatore"; the second in Sicilian costume, for the Romanze e Scena, from "Cavalleria Rusticana." The third brought an innovation by remaining perdu during the introductory symphony. At last she rushed on screaming, her dark hair loose about her shoulders, corn and poppies caught in her tattered costume and clutched in tense hands. She was enacting Mad Margaret in "Ruddigore," and gave a remarkable characterisation from a dramatic point of view, though hard put to sustain the vocal requirements of the part, which are not of first importance, but still must count.

The next beginning also was "off stage," Figaro's echo of the persistent calls for him being heard from "the wings." When Figaro appeared to continue Rossini's great baritone aria, "Largo al factotum," he was dressed in Venetian red and carried a guitar. There followed a Jewess from mediæval Italy—the competitor singing the aria, "He will return," from Halevy's "The Jewess." The costume was simple, but effective, in its tints and period of character. Neat dusky Aida appeared, a brown-stained arm, encircled by a broad slave bangle. She sang "Ritorna del Vincitor."

VARIED STUDIES.

Then came a clown, to declaim the Prologue to "Pagliacci," with fine appeal, none the less strong for being delivered in Italian.

More madness! A ghastly white-robed figure of Lucia, in the celebrated "Mad Scene"—delight of prime donne—in "Lucia di Lammermoor." This competitor fulfilled the old-fashioned idea of a dramatic scena, and was brilliant in vocalisation.

The heroine of melodramatic opera was followed by a stage Irishman—another of the competitors to begin in "the wings." It was Myles na Coppaleen, hero of "The Lily of Killarney," to sing "It is a charming girl I love." Costume and [illegible] were excellent.

Away again from Ireland to the traditional home of opera, the audience was taken by a competitor in the garb of Pagliacci, singing in Italian of "Vesti la giubba." [illegible] "Pagliacci" selection, Canio was in bright yellow.

Verdi's gipsy reappeared with different voice later and fully characteristic make-up than before. This time the selection was "Stride la vampa," sung in Italian.

The last competitor had neither costume nor special make-up. [illegible]

HIGH STANDARD OF MERIT.

Notwithstanding their disguises and the fact that they stood on the programme only as numbers, most of the competitors were recognised by scores of persons in the hall, and the word as to their identity passed quickly through the intensely interested audience.

Among the performances that could be dismissed out of consideration for award in view of the four or five outstanding efforts, several were by no means poor. This competition has reached a standard that requires a highly intensive effort in the winner.

ADJUDICATOR'S TASK.

Last night, out of four or five performances, the audience would not have been surprised altogether whichever the adjudicator had chosen for the Cup award. An adjudicator possessed of plausibility in justification could have given reasons for any one of them.

I do not think that anybody regretted that Mr. Radford's preference was for Mr. Kirwan's character-piece.

DUBLIN STEADY.

PRICES WELL MAINTAINED.

With the week-end market, as it were, "thrown in" as an additional cause for stagnation, business on 'Change yesterday was again exceedingly circumscribed, though at the later session some additional support was available for leading Industrials, and higher prices had to be paid to secure the necessary lots. In other directions price movements, as anticipated, were of an irregular character, owing to the limited state of the general market. Government National and other Loans were harder on balance. British Funds show moderate declines. Banks where dealt in were firm, with little doing, but Bank of Ireland Stock was on sale. Guinness Ord. opened with a further show of strength, but profit-taking set in, and the earlier slight gain was more than lost. Dublin Distillers Pref., though quoted lower, were really rather firmer than recent unofficial ideas of the market. Marconi were sellers at a lower level. Rails were steady, but practically drawn blank. Tram issues were again firm, with Dublin United "B" 3½ p.c. Debs. and Provincial 6 p.c. Pref. bid for and higher prices called. Alliance Gas were good and higher. Bakery and Drapery were almost neglected. Textiles closed decidedly over lower initial quotations. Tobaccos were finally firm. Dunlop Rubber Or. were freely supported, mainly for the other side. Shell Transports rallied a couple of shillings.

The American Thread Company's transfer books will be closed from 17th to 31st May, both days inclusive.

LONDON QUIET.

VERY CONFIDENT TONE.

Considering the industrial conditions prevailing throughout the country, the Stock markets have remained remarkably steady, though, speaking generally, there has been no marked disposition to do any large amount of business. The feeling of confidence which has pervaded transactions during the strike has been fully maintained. Gilt-edged Securities remained steady, but in Home Rails there were small losses. Following the appreciation of the franc, French Loans improved. Mines were irregular. Rubber Shares, though almost at a standstill, were slightly easier in the little business that was transacted. Dunlops showed a small upward movement, while Oil Shares and B.A.T. were dull, but steady.

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOANS EASIER.

TREASURY BILL RATE HIGHER.

The customary Friday conditions prevailed in Lombard street. Renewals of old daily loans mostly went at 4 p.c., while in some cases 4½ p.c. was charged, but fresh overnight advances were obtained from the latter figure down to 3½ p.c. at the close. The discount market remained quiet, but rates were firmer on the Treasury bill allotments, the average rate for next week's Treasuries working out at 4⅝ p.c. Bank bills of all dates were quoted 4⅜, and this rate also ruled for the "hot" Treasuries. Of next week's bills those dated Monday to Friday at £98 16s. 8d. receive about 64 p.c. and above in full, and those dated Saturday at £98 17s. and above receive in full.

Bank Rate Discount (changed Dec. 2, 1925). 5%

Bullion movements nil. There has been a sharp rise in the price of silver during the past week, touching 30⅝d. as against 29⅞d. a week ago, although on Thursday, on some reselling by China, there was a reaction to 30⅛d.; yesterday's quotation being another ⅛d. lower for spot at 29⅞d., and forward lost ⅛d. at the same figure. About £900,000 arrived from the Cape this week, of which the Bank of England secured about £400,000, the remainder being taken for India and the Continent. Yesterday's quotation was 1d. better at 84s. 11½d.

The chief movement of note in the Foreign Exchange market was the firmness of the New York cable rate at 4.85⅞, while French and Belgian francs, after a much better opening, fell back as the day advanced, and left off weaker at 155½ and 159½ respectively. The Italian lire weakened a little, and the Dutch rate showed no change. Spanish pesetas kept steady, and Norwegian kroner weakened a shade. South American currencies were easier, notably Monte Video.

LONDON MOVEMENTS.

Gilt-edged Securities were, as a whole, well maintained, closing values, with a couple of exceptions, being the same as on Thursday night. Consols were dealt in at a lower rate, but they closed above the worst, and the final quotation of 53⅞ showed a decline of ⅛ on the day's business. War Loans, however, were maintained, final quotations being without material change. Funding Loans and Victory Bonds were also unaltered, as were Indias and Local Loans. Conversion 3½ p.c., on the other hand, were firmer in tone, and finally registered an improvement of ⅛ to 73⅞.

Foreign Government Stocks displayed a slightly firmer front, the better tendency of the franc being reflected in an improvement in both the 5 and the 4 p.c. French Loans. The former rallied to 10½, or ¼ above the overnight level, while the latter, at 9, were ¼ higher. Chinese issues were also a shade firmer, the 4½ 1898 closing ½ up at 74. Mexican 5 p.c. '99, on the other hand, went the turn lower to 44, or ½ easier.

BRITISH RAILS LOWER.

Home Rails were somewhat easier in places, but price changes, although generally lower, were narrow and of little consequence. Great Westerns dropped back to 83, or ½ easier, while Midlands shed a like amount to 71. Metropolitan Districts were also ½ lower at 50, while Underground Ord., at 3¼, were ⅛ easier. Southern Def. Ord., on the other hand, went forward to 42, or ¼ firmer, while North-Eastern Def. Ord. gained ⅛ to 17⅞.

Little of interest transpired in Colonial and Foreign Rails, and the price changes registered were few and of small denomination. Antofagasta Ord. went ½ better to 89, and United Havana gained ¼ to 68⅞. B.A. Pacific, on the other hand, dropped ½ to 80½, while Entre Rios Ord., at 54, were a similar amount lower. Apart from these alterations, final prices were the same as previously.

RUBBER SHARES EASIER.

Business remained on an extremely small scale in the Rubber share market yesterday, but, despite the fact that dealings were noticeable by their absence, a generally steady tone prevailed, though in the few instances where price changes were recorded values were, with but one exception, slightly lower. A quiet tone also ruled in the commodity market, but the quotation recorded an improvement on the day, closing ½d. higher at 1s. 11¾d. per pound. In the share market, Anglo-Malay at 35s. were 7½d. down, while Bertam Consols at 8s. 1½d. were 3d. lower. Kuala Lumpur were again marked down, the closing value of 82s. 6d. being a further 1s. 3d. lower, while Sialang at 73s. 9d. were also 1s. 3d. below the previous level. Telogoredjo went off rather sharply to 72s. 6d., or 2s. 6d. easier, while United Serdang closed fractionally lower at 6s. 9d., a decline of 1½d. on the day. Malacca, on the other hand, were a firm market, and at the end of business the closing value of 67s. 6d. showed a gain of 1s. 3d. on the day.

TEA SHARE MARKET NEGLECTED.

Tea shares yesterday were lifeless, and what dealings did occur were of a minor character and failed to affect quotations. Final values were thus, without exception, the same as on Thursday.

OIL SHARES QUIET.

In common with other departments, Oil shares experienced another extremely quiet session yesterday; but, while in no direction was there a vestige of support, the absence of any volume of selling tended to keep share values steady. Price changes were thus few and far between, though where alteration was registered slightly lower values were marked.

INDUSTRIALS INACTIVE.

A fairly steady tone ruled in the Industrial Market yesterday, but business was again on an extremely small scale. There was little evidence of any desire to deal, except in a few specialities, but, on the other hand, no selling orders of any magnitude came forward, and, although closing values were lower in several directions, prices, as a whole, were fairly well maintained. Among banks, Westminsters at 18¾ were ⅛ firmer, but, apart from this change, no material movement was evident. Telegraphs and Telephones remained quiet and steady. Marconi issues were without movement, but among Radios the Common at 8¼ were ⅛ better. Breweries were practically neglected, but the general tone was steady, and final values much the same as previously. Little of interest transpired in Stores, but, if anything, the tendency was slightly easier. Aerated Bread fell back a trifle to 25s. 6d., while Bovril Def. also closed lower. Lyons Ord. were a rather heavy spot, and here a decline of ⅛ was recorded to 3⅞. Maypole Def., on the other hand, went a shade harder to 5s. 6d. Irons and Steels were not changed to any great extent, but while Pease and Partners went a trifle easier, Siemens and United Steels were both better on the day. Apart from Sudan Plants, which were ⅛ higher at 4⅞, Land issues were quiet and without change. Newspapers, on the other hand, were quoted lower in some directions, Allied Ord. and "Daily Mirror" Ord. both losing ⅛ on the day's business. Nitrates were fairly well maintained, closing quotations, with the exception of Lautaro, which eased ⅛ to 4⅞, being the same as before. Among Textiles, Courtaulds went back to 6¼, or ⅛ below the overnight level, while Coats dropped ⅛ to 3. Bleachers and Fine Spinners, on the other hand, were both firmer, the former rising 7½d., and the latter 6d. Among Miscellaneous issues, Brazilian Tractions were an exceptionally firm market, and, after improving steadily throughout the day, they were finally no less than 2½ points harder at 94. Tobaccos, however, were not so good, British-Americans losing 9d., while others could only repeat their previous quotations. Brunner Mond hardened to 35s. 3d., or 9d. firmer. Dunlops were fairly well dealt in, and at the close a gain of 4½d. was registered to 23s. 1½d. Levers improved slightly, as did Rolls-Royce, while Swedish Match "B" at 12⅞ were ⅛ higher.

LONDON MINING MARKET HIGHER.

IRREGULAR PRICE MOVEMENTS.

Business in the Mining share market on the last day of the week proved very small, but despite the slackness of business a generally steady tone was evident. Indeed, in some departments the tendency was to send prices higher, several good improvements being registered at the close of the day. A certain amount of support was in evidence from Paris, a number of the favourites experiencing what in these days might be called a fairly brisk business, and final rates were quoted higher. Among Kaffirs, Brakpans, City Deeps and Rand Mines were all appreciably higher, while Crown Mines, East Rand Props and Modder "B" were all a shade firmer. Hendersons, however, were allowed to slip back, and South Africa Towns were also a trifle easier. New State Areas were a rather heavy spot, and here a decline of ⅛ was recorded to 2⅛. Little interest was manifest in Rhodesian issues, but, with a couple or so exceptions, prices were maintained. Chartered were held at 23s. 6d., and Gold Fields Rhodesians were also unchanged. Cam and Motor, however, dropped ⅛ on the day, while Sherwood Starr at ¾ were ⅛ lower. In Diamonds, Paris came in a buyer of De Beers Deferred, and the quotation went forward to 14⅛, at which level they closed showing an increase of ⅛. New Jagers, on the other hand, were a similar amount lower, while Consolidated Diamonds shed ⅛ to ⅞. Tin fell £2 2s. 6d. to £217 15s. per ton, and as a consequence a slightly irregular tendency was evident. Quotations rallied again during the latter hours, however, and, with a couple of exceptions, final prices were repeated. Gopeng were easier at 2⅛, or ⅛ lower; but, on the other hand, Tavoy at 3⅛ were ⅛ to the good. Coppers, apart from a slight decline in Tintos, were unchanged. Tintos closed ⅛ lower at 36, after having been quoted distinctly lower at one time. Miscellaneous Mines were idle, but despite the paucity of business prices were well held, and final values were the same as before throughout the list. Closing prices:—

GRAIN.

DUBLIN HAY AND STRAW (Smithfield)—Hay was in somewhat larger compass than on Tuesday's market, but no improvement was noticeable in trade. NURSES' GRIEVANCES.

ANNUAL COUNCIL MEETING IN DUBLIN.

Among the resolutions passed at the annual Council meeting of the Irish Nurses' Union, which opened yesterday in the Oak Room, Mansion House, Dublin, was one which complained that the best nurses would be forced to emigrate unless there was an improvement in the conditions of service for nurses in many county hospitals and homes, and requested the Minister for Local Government and Public Health to give this matter immediate attention. Copies of the resolution are to be sent to all Boards of Health.

Miss Flanagan stated that in one hospital during the past year the nurses had an 84-hours week on day duty, and, although they were allowed two hours off, it was seldom possible for them to get it. The night nurses in that hospital had a 70-hours week, with no night off. In one hospital there was no bathroom for the nurses; there were two nurses sleeping in one room, and the third nurse had to use the room that served as dining room and living room. In another case the house occupied by the nurses was in a bad state of repair, with the result that their health suffered continually.

Other instances were given where no laundry allowance was provided, and the ration allowance was inadequate and unsuitable, particularly for night nurses.

Sir Edward Coey Bigger, speaking on the question of the training of nurses and midwives, said that there had been no improvement as far as salaries were concerned, although it cost a great deal more to train a nurse or midwife than in former years. The Government should appoint a committee to consider what would be a fair and reasonable scale. With regard to the medical treatment of school children, an Act was passed in 1920, but, with one or two exceptions, it had not been in force; and it should be one of the most important health services. Regarding holidays, considering the continuous, arduous and responsible duties a nurse had to perform, holidays should be a statutory provision and included in the regulations. Medical science and surgical work would be of little use without the skilled care and attention of the general nurse.

Miss Long, Central Housing Council, spoke on the housing question as it affected nurses, and suggested the formation of public utility societies for nurses, so that, by means of the Government grant under the 1925 Housing Act and grants from local authorities, houses could be built in different counties in the Free State where the nurses and midwives found it impossible to get proper accommodation.

Miss Bennett said that many nurses in the country were suffering terrible hardships from the housing conditions.

LIMERICK BULL SHOW.

PREMIUM ANIMALS IN GOOD DEMAND.

(FROM OUR AGRICULTURAL CORRESPONDENT.)

LIMERICK, Friday.

With 120 entries, the second annual show and sale of registered dairy, pure-bred Shorthorn, Aberdeen Angus, and Hereford bulls, held by the Co. Limerick branch of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society, was twice the size of last year's one. The competitive classes were open only to members of the Co. Limerick Cow Testing Associations. Of these there are no fewer than 32, and since 1923 the county has taken the lead by raising the standard for premium bulls to 800 gallons on both sides of their pedigree. In 1924 there were bred in the county only four premium bulls up to the standard. Now there are about 20 such bulls. At to-day's show and sale the number of premiums awarded by Messrs. R. Lynch, P. Duffy, and C. J. McCarthy, Live Stock Inspectors, was 21. This affords one indication of the high standard of merit displayed throughout. Still more striking was the fact that 19 of these bulls averaged 58 guineas in the ring.

There is a shortage of premium bulls this season, notwithstanding the larger number selected by the Department, and especially noticeable is the demand for Aberdeen Angus. The top price to-day—100 gns.—was paid for the nice blocky A.A. bull, Brian of Castle Lough, the property of Mr. Parker-Hutchinson, Nenagh; the next best figure, 81 gns., being also paid for an Aberdeen Angus from Brigadier-General Parker, Nenagh.

Mr. Maurice Raleigh, Knocklong, was the most successful competitor at the Show, accounting for the Boyd Cup for young registered dairy bulls in a very good class, three first prizes, and one second. For his Boyd Cup winner, Tipperary Boy, a well-bred roan of dairy type, he got 70 gns., the top price in the section. He obtained a similar price for his two-year-old dairy Shorthorn, Loobagh Grand Duke 10th, which was reserved for the Dunraven Cup. This trophy, presented by Lord Dunraven for the best Co. Limerick-bred bull whose dam and sire's dam has given over 800 gallons of milk in 45 weeks, was won by Mr. Wm. Kelleher, Charleville, with Highmount Champion, a good-substanced red of the right type, that was sold for 59 gns. When the premium bulls came into the ring there was keen bidding, and no difficulty was experienced in getting substantial prices, with the result that the 19 sold made a total of 1,103 gns. Many of the non-premium bulls showed great substance and were well suited for crossing. They also sold well, although not at such high prices as the others.

In the spacious paddocks of Mr. W. B. Fitt, who conducted the sale, there was every accommodation for exhibitors and the public, even to the provision of tea, and the business of the day was carried through with clock-like precision.

Amongst the officers of the Association present were Mr. C. O'Sullivan, president; Mr. M. Raleigh, vice-president; Mr. C. Dowling, hon. secretary, with Messrs. O'Leary and Regan, cow testing instructors; Mr. M. Gleeson, instructor in agriculture, and Mr. Hartigan, secretary, Co. Committee of Agriculture. With Mr. Gleeson were Dr. W. I. Myers, Professor of Farm Finance, Cornell University, and Mr. J. Morgan Jones, Department of Agricultural Economics, Aberstwyth, who, in the course of an Irish tour, are visiting some typical dairy farms in Co. Limerick.

The prizes were awarded by Messrs. F. N. Grene, Dundrum, and P. O'Donnell, Kilmallock, and it will be observed that buyers were present from Killala, Tuam, and various parts of Tipperary, Kerry and Cork, as well as Limerick.

DAIRY SHORTHORNS.

There were only two entries in the class for registered dairy Shorthorn bulls, and premier honour went to Mr. M. Raleigh, Knocklong, for his well-balanced two-year-old red, Loobagh Grand Duke 10th, by Freshwater Persimmon, whose dam was a 1,050-gallon cow, out of the 927-gallon Loobagh Grand Duchess. He was reserved for the Dunraven Cup, and was sold to Lord Inchiquin for 70 gns.

REGISTERED DAIRY BULLS.

For non-pedigree registered dairy Shorthorns, two years old, Mr. Wm. Kelleher, Charleville, won first prize and the Dunraven Cup with Highmount Captain, a level, good barrelled red by Boatsman of Abbeyland, whose dam had a record of 933 gallons, while his own dam was an 873-gallon cow. Mr. T. Ryan bought him for 59 gns. Mr. M. Reddy, Clarina, was second with Shamrock, a useful red and white by Bloomfield King. He was sold for 30 gns. Mr. W. Buckley, Patrickswell, was third with Adare Gold, a red by Loobagh Rover 11th out of a thousand-gallon cow, which sold for 35½ gns. Mr. M. D. Liston's reserve bull, Duke of Belvelly, realised 26 gns.

Of 29 entries in the older yearling bull class, Mr. Maurice Raleigh took first and second prizes, reserve for the Boyd Cup, and reserve in the class with a quartet of undoubted merit. All are by Loobagh Ringer 7th, a bull from a 925-gallon cow. The leader was Limerick Ringer, a son of Limerick, one of the cup winners at Dublin last year. He was sold for 60 gns. The second bull, Limerick's Best, was out of Red Limerick, a 1,146-gallon cow, also a Dublin cup winner. He was not sold. Mr. J. Fitzgerald, Kilfinny, was third with Knockfierna Chieftain II., a shapely red by Ballynagar Pilot. He was sold for 52 gns.

There were 29 entries in the younger yearling class, and here Mr. Raleigh took first prize and the Boyd Cup with Tipperary Boy, an attractive roan, whose dam, Grey Tipp, was a 925-gallon cow. He realised 70 gns. Mr. T. Hickey, Kilfinny, was second with Kilmacow Chieftain 24th, a useful roan out of a 744-gallon cow. He was sold at 57 gns. Mr. J. J. Riordan, Newcastle West, was third with Pride of Monocea, a dark roan by that fine dairy bull, Roan Captain. He changed hands at 53 gns.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

ATTEMPT TO FORCE BAKERY'S SAFE.

(BEFORE JUDGE DROMGOOLE.)

Patrick Lally, James Fitzpatrick and Christopher Maguire were charged with breaking into Messrs. Thompson's bakery, Bridgefoot street, on the morning of Sunday, the 18th ult. Lally was found guilty and put back; Maguire was found not guilty and discharged, and in Fitzpatrick's case the jury disagreed. Fitzpatrick was put back for a further trial.

Guard Joyce gave evidence that, as he was passing Thompson's bakery at 6 o'clock on the Sunday morning, he heard heavy thuds in the office. Shortly afterwards a wicket in the gate opened, but, as the witness and another Guard approached, the wicket was shut. Fitzpatrick and Maguire escaped by the back, but Lally was pursued and captured.

Guard Donnelly described how he chased two men, whom he believed to be Fitzpatrick and Maguire, to Usher's quay, where they disappeared.

Further evidence showed that an unsuccessful attempt was made to force the safe, which contained about £120. Damage estimated at £15 was done to the safe.

The defence was an alibi. Lally's explanation was that he saw men running away from the police and that he "got mixed up in the crowd."

FORGED PAYING ORDER.

After a plea by his counsel (Mr. A. Burne), Ernest Kelly, convicted on Thursday of forging and cashing a paying order value for £29, was released on entering into bail to keep the peace and come up for judgment if, and when, called upon.

SALES BY TENDER.

1924.—No. 404.
SAORSTAT EIREANN.
HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.
CHANCERY COURT 2.
In the Matter of the Estate of
JOHN EDGE DWEN, Deceased;
RICHARD WRIGHT and DAVID McKENNA, Plaintiffs;
And

SALE IN TWO LOTS.

Part of the Lands of BALLYCOOLAN, and also Part of the Lands of BALLINTESKIN, and Part of the Lands of FALLOWBEG LOWER, all situate in the Barony of Stradbally and Queen's County.

TO BE SOLD BY TENDER,

Pursuant to an ORDER of the COURT.

LOT 1.—That Part of the Lands of BALLYCOOLAN, containing 137a. 1r. 28p., and also that Part of the Lands of BALLINTESKIN, containing 15a. 2r. 30p., both Statute Measure, or thereabouts, situate in the Barony of Stradbally, and Queen's County, held in fee simple, subject to an annuity of £76 13/8, now reduced by the Statutory decadal reductions to £55 11/6, payable to the Irish Land Commission.

The above is one of the best Residential Farms in the Queen's County, central as between Athy, Carlow, Maryborough. The Residence is very attractive and contains drawingroom, diningroom, 5 bedrooms, kitchen, pantry and scullery. Outoffices are extensive, with accommodation for 60 cattle, stabling, spacious lofting, car houses, etc. There is a very fine hay barn.

The Lands are all in grass, and are fattening; nicely divided into convenient divisions. There are two good slated workmen's dwellings on the Lands.

LOT 2.—That Part of the Lands of FALLOWBEG LOWER, containing 174a. 3r. 21p., Statute Measure, or thereabouts, situate in the Barony of Stradbally, and Queen's County, held in fee simple, subject to an annuity of £100 16/0, now reduced by the Statutory decadal reductions to £73 12/-, payable to the Irish Land Commission.

Fallowbeg Farm is all prime fattening, with two good cottages, out-offices and large hay barn. This Farm has been worked by late owner for close on 50 years. It is, without doubt, a valuable property, being most favourably placed, and held at such a low annuity.

PURSUANT to Order of the Court, dated the 2nd day of December, 1925, Tenders for the purchase of said Lots, subject to the terms of the Conditions of Sale, settled in this action, enclosed in sealed envelopes, endorsed "WRIGHT v. DWEN, Tenders for Lot," may be sent (if by post, prepaid) to J. R. CRESWELL, Solicitor for Plaintiffs, having Carriage of said Sale, at Nos. 69 and 70 Dame street, Dublin, up to the 13th day of MAY, 1926, inclusive, and such Tenders as shall have been so sent will, on the 17th day of MAY, 1926, be before the said Court for consideration.

The Conditions of Sale, and the Folios in respect of each Lot, may be inspected at the offices of the undersigned Solicitor (see Condition 13).

LIMERICK BULL SHOW.

PREMIUM ANIMALS IN GOOD DEMAND.

(From Our Agricultural Correspondent.)

LIMERICK, Friday.

With 120 entries, the second annual show and sale of registered dairy, pure-bred Shorthorn, Aberdeen Angus, and Hereford bulls, held by the Co. Limerick branch of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society, was twice the size of last year's one. The competitive classes were open only to members of the Co. Limerick Cow Testing Associations. Of these there are no fewer than 32, and since 1923 the county has taken the lead by raising the standard for premium bulls to 800 gallons on both sides of their pedigree. In 1924 there were bred in the county only four premium bulls up to the standard. Now there are about 20 such bulls. At to-day's show and sale the number of premiums awarded by Messrs. R. Lynch, P. Duffy, and C. J. McCarthy, Live Stock Inspectors, was 21. This affords one indication of the high standard of merit displayed throughout. Still more striking was the fact that 19 of these bulls averaged 58 guineas in the ring.

There is a shortage of premium bulls this season, notwithstanding the larger number selected by the Department, and especially noticeable is the demand for Aberdeen Angus. The top price to-day—100 gns.—was paid for the nice blocky A.A. bull, Brian of Castle Lough, the property of Mr. Parker-Hutchinson, Nenagh; the next best figure, 81 gns., being also paid for an Aberdeen Angus from Brigadier-General Parker, Nenagh.

Mr. Maurice Raleigh, Knocklong, was the most successful competitor at the Show, accounting for the Boyd Cup for young registered dairy bulls in a very good class, three first prizes, and one second. For his Boyd Cup winner, Tipperary Boy, a well-bred roan of dairy type, he got 70 gns., the top price in the section. He obtained a similar price for his two-year-old dairy Shorthorn, Loobagh Grand Duke 10th, which was reserved for the Dunraven Cup. This trophy, presented by Lord Dunraven for the best Co. Limerick-bred bull whose dam and sire's dam has given over 800 gallons of milk in 45 weeks, was won by Mr. Wm. Kelleher, Charleville, with Highmount Champion, a good-substanced red of the right type, that was sold for 59 gns. When the premium bulls came into the ring there was keen bidding, and no difficulty was experienced in getting substantial prices, with the result that the 19 sold made a total of 1,103 gns. Many of the non-premium bulls showed great substance and were well suited for crossing. They also sold well, although not at such high prices as the others.

In the spacious paddocks of Mr. W. B. Fitt, who conducted the sale, there was every accommodation for exhibitors and the public, even to the provision of tea, and the business of the day was carried through with clock-like precision.

Amongst the officers of the Association present were Mr. C. O'Sullivan, president; Mr. M. Raleigh, vice-president; Mr. C. Dowling, hon. secretary, with Messrs. O'Leary and Regan, cow testing instructors; Mr. M. Gleeson, instructor in agriculture, and Mr. Hartigan, secretary, Co. Committee of Agriculture. With Mr. Gleeson were Dr. W. I. Myers, Professor of Farm Finance, Cornell University, and Mr. J. Morgan Jones, Department of Agricultural Economics, Aberystwyth, who, in the course of an Irish tour, are visiting some typical dairy farms in Co. Limerick.

The prizes were awarded by Messrs. F. N. Grene, Dundrum, and P. O'Donnell, Kilmallock, and it will be observed that buyers were present from Killala, Tuam, and various parts of Tipperary, Kerry and Cork, as well as Limerick.

DAIRY SHORTHORNS.

There were only two entries in the class for registered dairy Shorthorn bulls, and premier honour went to Mr. M. Raleigh, Knocklong, for his well-balanced two-year-old red, Loobagh Grand Duke 10th, by Freshwater Persimmon, whose dam was a 1,050-gallon cow, out of the 927-gallon Loobagh Grand Duchess. He was reserved for the Dunraven Cup, and was sold to Lord Inchiquin for 70 gns.

REGISTERED DAIRY BULLS.

For non-pedigree registered dairy Shorthorns, two years old, Mr. Wm. Kelleher, Charleville, won first prize and the Dunraven Cup with Highmount Captain, a level, good barrelled red by Boatsman of Abbeyland; whose dam had a record of 933 gallons, while his own dam was an 873-gallon cow. Mr. T. Ryan bought him for 59 gns. Mr. M. Reddy, Clarina, was second with Shamrock, a useful red and white by Bloomfield King. He was sold for 30 gns. Mr. W. Buckley, Patrickswell, was third with Adare Gold, a red by Loobagh Rover 11th out of a thousand-gallon cow, which sold for 35½ gns. Mr. M. D. Liston's reserve bull, Duke of Belvelly, realised 26 gns.

Of 29 entries in the older yearling bull class, Mr. Maurice Raleigh took first and second prizes, reserve for the Boyd Cup, and reserve in the class with a quartet of undoubted merit. All are by Loobagh Ringer 7th, a bull from a 926-gallon cow. The leader was Limerick Ringer, a son of Limerick, one of the cup winners at Dublin last year. He was sold for 60 gns. The second bull, Limerick's Best, was out of Red Limerick, a 1,146-gallon cow, also a Dublin cup winner. He was not sold. Mr. J. Fitzgerald, Kilfinny, was third with Knockfierna Chieftain II., a shapely red by Ballynagar Pilot. He was sold for 52 gns.

There were 29 entries in the younger yearling class, and here Mr. Raleigh took first prize and the Boyd Cup with Tipperary Boy, an attractive roan, whose dam, Grey Tipp, was a 926-gallon cow. He realised 70 gns. Mr. T. Hickey, Kilfinny, was second with Kilmacow Chieftain 24th, a useful roan out of a 744-gallon cow. He was sold at 57 gns. Mr. J. J. Riordan, Newcastle West, was third with Pride of Monocea, a dark roan by that fine dairy bull, Rose Captain. He changed hands at 53 gns.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

ATTEMPT TO FORCE BAKERY'S SAFE.

(BEFORE JUDGE DROMGOOLE.)

Patrick Lally, James Fitzpatrick and Christopher Maguire were charged with breaking into Messrs. Thompson's bakery, Bridgefoot street, on the morning of Sunday, the 18th ult. Lally was found guilty and put back; Maguire was found not guilty and discharged, and in Fitzpatrick's case the jury disagreed. Fitzpatrick was put back for a further trial.

Guard Joyce gave evidence that, as he was passing Thompson's bakery at 6 o'clock on the Sunday morning, he heard heavy thuds in the office. Shortly afterwards a wicket in the gate opened, but, as the witness and another Guard approached, the wicket was shut. Fitzpatrick and Maguire escaped by the back, but Lally was pursued and captured.

Guard Donnelly described how he chased two men, whom he believed to be Fitzpatrick and Maguire, to Usher's quay, where they disappeared.

Further evidence showed that an unsuccessful attempt was made to force the safe, which contained about £120. Damage estimated at £15 was done to the safe.

The defence was an alibi. Lally's explanation was that he saw men running away from the police and that he "got mixed up in the crowd."

FORGED PAYING ORDER.

After a plea by his counsel (Mr. A. Burne), Ernest Kelly, convicted on Thursday of forging and cashing a paying order value for £29, was released on entering into bail to keep the peace and come up for judgment if, and when, called upon.

SALES BY TENDER.

1924.—No. 404.
SAORSTAT EIREANN.
HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.
CHANCERY COURT 3.
In the Matter of the Estate of
JOHN EDGE DWEN, Deceased;
RICHARD WRIGHT and DAVID McKENNA, Plaintiffs;
And

SALE
IN TWO LOTS
Part of the Lands of BALLYCOOLAN, and also Part of the Lands of BALLINTESKIN, and Part of the Lands of FALLOWBEG LOWER, all situate in the Barony of Stradbally and Queen's County.

TO BE SOLD BY TENDER,

Pursuant to an ORDER of the COURT.

LOT 1.—That Part of the Lands of BALLYCOOLAN, containing 137a. 1r. 28p., and also that Part of the Lands of BALLINTESKIN, containing 15a. 2r. 30p., both Statute Measure, or thereabouts, situate in the Barony of Stradbally and Queen's County, held in fee simple, subject to an annuity of £76 13/8, now reduced by the Statutory decadal reductions to £55 11/6, payable to the Irish Land Commission.

The above is one of the best Residential Farms in the Queen's County, central as between Athy, Carlow, Maryborough. The Residence is very attractive and contains drawingroom, diningroom, 5 bedrooms, kitchen, pantry and scullery. Out-offices are extensive, with accommodation for 60 cattle; stabling, spacious lofting, car houses, etc. There is a very fine hay barn.

The Lands are all in grass, and are fattening; nicely divided into convenient divisions. There are two good slated workmen's dwellings on the Lands.

LOT 2.—That Part of the Lands of FALLOWBEG LOWER, containing 174a. 3r. 21p., Statute Measure, or thereabouts, situate in the Barony of Stradbally, and Queen's County, held in fee simple, subject to an annuity of £100 16/0, now reduced by the Statutory decadal reductions to £73 12/-, payable to the Irish Land Commission.

Fallowbeg Farm is all prime fattening, with two good cottages, out-offices and large hay barn. This Farm has been worked by late owner for close on 50 years. It is, without doubt, a valuable property, being most favourably placed, and held at such a low annuity.

PURSUANT to Order of the Court, dated the 2nd day of December, 1925, Tenders for the purchase of said Lots, subject to the terms of the Conditions of Sale, settled in this action, enclosed in sealed envelopes, endorsed "WRIGHT v. DWEN, Tenders for Lot," may be sent (if by post, prepaid) to J. R. CRESWELL, Solicitor for Plaintiffs, having Carriage of said Sale, at Nos. 69 and 70 Dame street, Dublin, up to the 13th day of MAY, 1926, inclusive, and such Tenders as shall have been so sent will, on the 17th day of MAY, 1926, be before the said Court for consideration.

J. R. CRESWELL, Solicitor having Carriage of Sale, 69 and 70 Dame street, Dublin.
